REDS FIGHT NEW PUSH ON KIEV

U.S. OPENS NEW ANTI-AXIS DRIVE ON TWO FRONTS

Enlists Strategy and Economic Boards.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Two new engines of American warfare on the totalitarian governments will go into operation this week. They are:

1. The organization for the development of major strategy under the direction of Col. William J. [Wild Bill] Donovan, newly appointed coördinator of information.

2. A board, headed by Vice President Henry A. Wallace, which will devise policies designed to cripple the axis powers economically in all parts of the world.

Donovan Supersedes Others.

Col. Donovan suddenly has become the No. 2 man of the government in the direction of America's participation in the war, towering above Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, and Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson, and subordinate only to the President himself.

It was Donovan who toured the Balkans and the near east as the President's emissary last winter, seeking with promises of American aid to induce Bulgaria, Jugo-Slavia, and Turkey to resist the Nazis. Bulgaria turned a deaf ear to Donovan and signed up with Hitler. Jugo-Slavia resisted the Nazis, appealed in vain for American aid, and was conquered by Hitler. Turkey remains independent, having succeeded in keeping on good terms with both belligerents.

Staff of Experts Assigned.

Assigned to Col. Donovan's office are army and navy intelligence officers and strategy experts, economists, publicists, dramatists, historians, and psychologists. Their duties will be to evolve the higher strategy of economic and psychological warfare and to mold propaganda to rationalize Mr. Roosevelt's war aims.

Just as Prof. Haushofer's geopolitical institute in Berlin evolved lebensraum [room for existence] to rationalize Nazi aggression upon neighboring peoples, so Col. Donovan's institution will be relied upon by President Roosevelt to make plausible his dedication of the resources of the United States to fight for the four freedoms everywhere in the world.

Playwright Sherwood at Work.

Already at work in the Donovan agency is Robert Sherwood, playwright and militant interventionist, who for several months has been at the elbow of the President as his special ghost writer of the higher exegesis of the Roosevelt war aims.

Sherwood is analyzing the German and Italian domestic and short wave radio broadcasts, to counteract which he will produce plays, musical programs, and speeches for broadcast to the conquered peoples of the axis powers to hearten them and break down the morale of their guards. This activity is in line with the "V" for Victory war of nerves initiated by the British.

The new board headed by Wallace is patterned on Britain's ministry of economic warfare, with which it will work in close coöperation.

Briton Will Be Adviser.

The executive director of the board is Winfield W. Riefler, a New Deal economist, who will be advised by Noel Hall of the British embassy, who represents the British ministry of economic warfare.

The scope of the Wallace board's activities include the following:

1. "Preclusive" or "preëmptive" buying, by which the United States buys up defensive goods to prevent their shipment to axis or axis-controled countries.

2. Preclusive selling, whereby United States firms would sell to Latin American countries goods that might otherwise come from the axis sphere, and thus prevent the setting up of axis-controled credits.

Observation Is One Phase.

3. Economic observation, to keep a much closer watch on the business ventures of Germany, Japan, and Italy in the western hemisphere.

4. Handling the frozen assets of axis powers here and coöperating with Latin American nations in freezing credits in South America.

5. Further action to hog-tie the trade of the 1,800 Latin American firms, blacklisted by the state department as being axis-controled, and to set up American firms to compete with them and drive them out of operations.

Hitherto our economic warfare on the axis in the Latin American coun-

RUSSIA ADMITS BATTLE MOVES DEEP IN UKRAINE

Army Holding Firm, Moscow Claims.

MOSCOW, Aug. 4 [Monday] (AP).—The Red army held firm all day and night Sunday against the assaults of German invaders deep in the Ukraine south and northwest of Kiev and in the Estonian and Smolensk sectors guarding the routes to Leningrad and Moscow, soviet Russia announced today.

It admitted, however, that the Germans had forced the battle to the areas of Korosten, 80 miles northwest of Kiev, and Bel Tserkov, 50 miles or less south of the Ukraine capital, where some of the Red army's finest troops are reported to be stationed.

In this drive, the Germans had thrust past on both sides of Zhitomir, 80 miles to the west, where previous soviet communiques had placed the deepest part of the southern front.

New Battles at Hand.

Russian war accounts said a "new phase of violent and decisive battles is at hand," and declared the Red army still was growing in greater strength even while the powerful but tiring Germans intently strove to forge a vise around Kiev. The Russians claimed that the Germans were fighting on a schedule that allows but two hours of sleep daily, were half crazed from fatigue, and were running short of ammunition.

Scattered German planes sped thru Moscow's defenses last night and early today, but it was reported their bombs hit no military targets. Several residences were set afire, but the flames were said to have been quickly extinguished.

Moscow informants said several groups of German raiders lunged at the capital but that the mass formations were broken up by night fighters and ground batteries. The alarm, which was in force for two hours and 10 minutes, was the shortest of any in the night raids thus far.

Battle at Smolensk.

Fierce, night long battles were fought in the Smolensk area, 230 miles southwest of Moscow and in the Estonian sector southwest of Leningrad, the soviet command said. Detailed accounts of bitter, but minor action, also were furnished from the Finnish front.

On the Baltic, said the communique, Red navy torpedo cutters succeeded in sinking 18,000 tons of transports and tankers.

Suggesting the possibility of big developments to come in the Arctic seas, the Russian communique said soviet submarines off northern Norway sank an 8,000 ton German steamer "laden with arms and ammunition for the German-Finnish army."

A destroyer and other ships were raided in a Russian attack on the Rumanian Black sea port of Constanta Friday night, it said, while a German submarine was sunk in the Baltic sea on the north.

ONE IN MILLION CHANCE PROVES TO BE ENOUGH FOR EYE DROPPER GIRL

New Orleans, La., Aug. 3 (AP).—Jacqueline Anne Clement, the eye dropper baby who was given little more than one chance in a million of surviving when she was born, reached the "safe" age of 4 today—normal, healthy, lively, and a bit sophisticated.

There's nothing to distinguish Jacky from other youngsters of her age except her scrapbook, which records her life since she arrived Aug. 3, 1937, two and a half months prematurely and weighing 2 pounds 3¼ ounces. Now she weighs 34 pounds and is 40 inches tall.

At birth she rested comfortably in her doctor's hand. Her head was the size of a lemon, and a nurse could slip a finger ring around Jacky's wrist. Her first diaper fitted like an overcoat.

Many Dealers of Gas Flout Ickes Curfew

New York, Aug. 3 [Special].—A government sponsored curfew rang at 7 o'clock tonight on gasoline and oil sales along the eastern seaboard, but surveys within a 50 mile radius of the New York City area showed that scores of independent stations and at least one large oil company were flouting the shutdown request by Petroleum Coördinator Harold L. Ickes. A checkup revealed that instead of cutting down fuel consumption the first day of the Ickes' economy drive was a signal failure. All station employés questioned reported the briskest business of their careers.

The majority of leading oil companies sent circular letters to distributors urging them to comply fully, with Ickes' 7 p. m.-7 a. m. shutdown recommendation. The outstanding exception, however, was the Shell company, largely British-owned.

Fear It Means Lost Jobs.

Managers of stations thruout the city, most of them independently operated, were divided in opinions about the shutdown ruling. Many complained it would result in wholesale firings of attendants and in no saving of gasoline. A few welcomed the early closing hour, particularly if the rush on daylight sales should continue.

M. Rohdie, manager of an independent Shell station, was selling gas tonight. He said the Shell executive offices told him to sell tonight and see what happens tomorrow.

Michael's Industries, an independent chain, also ignored the curfew request. A chain official announced that it had received no specific request from authorities to close up.

A 22 mile survey of Brooklyn's main streets showed that only two stations were open. The manager of one of them, a Shell-owned independently operated stand, told reporters he was open on advice of Shell officials after he had notified them that his competitor was open and selling Sunoco gasoline.

Penalties in New Jersey.

On heavily traveled highways, operators of small stations which rely on night business said they could not afford to remain closed 12 hours a day.

The stations selling gas after 7 p. m. did so openly. No machinery has been set up to enforce Ickes' request and no penalties were provided—except in New Jersey—for noncompliance. The New Jersey state licensing commission issued a list of 300 stations designated as "emergency stations" and announced that others violating the curfew hours would lose their licenses.

Many operators said the voluntary shutdown plan would not work and that gasoline prices would go up within a week, thereby causing bootlegging of gasoline and oil. An operator of a Colonial-Esso station, who refused to disclose his name, said a company representative was being sent to Washington this week to suggest rationing of gasoline.

A gasoline vigilantes committee, made up of 15 attendants at closed stations in Nassau county, New York, tonight began picketing two stations in Williston Park that refused to shut down tonight. The vigilantes parked in automobiles outside the stations, waved American flags and called on motorists to refuse to patronize the stations. Police dispersed the "pickets."

JOE GOES TO CHURCH EARLY AND NEIGHBOR GETS BUSY ON PHONE

Early yesterday neighbors saw a man ride up on a bicycle to St. Michael's Catholic church, 48th street and Damen avenue, lay the bike down, and enter the church. One of them called police, saying he suspected the man was not a worshiper because he was too early.

Policemen William Berglind, Edward Kasek, and Cornelius Konekamp of the New City station hurried over. They found the suspect hiding under a pew. At his side was a kit of burglar tools. In a pocket of his coat was a set of skeleton keys.

He identified himself at the police station as Joseph Kowalski, 33 years old, 4626 South Honore street, an ex-convict. Police said he served a term in Pontiac prison for an auto theft in 1927. Kowalski admitted, they asserted, he intended to loot the church. He is to be held for further investigation and to be booked on charges of attempted burglary, possessing burglar tools, and stealing a bicycle—this last on his own admission.

HARRY HOPKINS IN BRITAIN AFTER TRIP TO RUSSIA

LONDON, Aug. 4 [Monday]—(AP).—United States Lend-Lease Administrator Harry Hopkins arrived in Britain last night from Moscow, where he conferred with Premier Josef Stalin on American aid.

[Hopkins left Moscow on Saturday after conferring there since Wednesday with soviet leaders. He had flown from Britain to the Russian capital. It had been reported he might return to the United States by way of the Orient.]

Soldier Slain as 350 Riot at Fort Knox

Fort Knox, Ky., Aug. 3 (AP).—Col. N. Butler Briscoe, post commander, disclosed today that a soldier was wounded fatally in a guardhouse riot here Wednesday night and that guards turned a fire hose on 350 milling prisoners after several rifle shots fired over their heads failed to restore order.

The victim was Private Carl B. McClellan, 19 years old, of Bicknell, Ind. He was struck in the left shoulder by a ricocheting bullet fired by one of the guards, Col. Briscoe said. He died in the post hospital Thursday afternoon.

Escape Starts Rioting.

The rioting started when a prisoner, using a makeshift ladder, climbed over two wire fences surrounding the guardhouse and escaped, Col. Briscoe said. Guards discovered the soldier escaping and fired several shots at him, but he made a getaway. He was captured Thursday.

At the sound of the shots, prisoners rushed out of their barracks into the yard, the colonel reported. They threw rocks from the yard rock pile at guards and officers.

Shot Glances Off Pillar.

Four of the guards began firing over the heads of the prisoners, and one of the shots glanced off a pillar, striking McClellan, who was serving a short term for a minor offense, Col. Briscoe said.

When the shots failed to disperse the rioters, a fire hose was brought into action and order was restored.

Col. Briscoe said ballistic tests will be made on the guards' rifles to determine who fired the fatal shot. The man responsible will be tried on a manslaughter charge by a military court, he said.

Father not Told of Riot.

Bicknell, Ind., Aug. 3 (AP).—Private Carl B. McClellan of Bicknell, disclosed to have been wounded fatally in a guardhouse riot at Fort Knox, Ky., Wednesday night, was buried today at an Odon cemetery, 25 miles east of here.

The father, Clarence McClellan, said he was told at Fort Knox, when he went there for the body, that the boy was killed in a rifle range accident, and that he would be given further details after an investigation. He said he knew nothing of the riot until he talked to a newspaper man tonight.

The McClellan youth joined the army on Aug. 24, 1940. His parents are separated, the mother, Mrs. Mary Foster, living at Pendleton, Ind.

3 Slain, 7 Shot in Bandit Raid on Seattle Club

Seattle, Wash., Aug. 3 (AP).—A gunman bent on robbery recklessly splattered a basement saloon club with bullets just before daybreak today, leaving three men dead and seven wounded.

A sawmill worker, swinging a stool, finally stopped the wild gunfire by battering the holdup man to the floor. The captured gunman was identified by Deputy Coroner Harlan Callahan as James Green, 28. Callahan said Green admitted the robbery attempt. In addition to being beaten with the stool Green was shot in the head, evidently by one of two policemen who had been summoned by the club doorman.

Here Is List of Those Killed.

The dead were:

Monte F. Brown, 61, vice president and publisher of the Seattle Journal of Commerce.

Gus Galmatos, 41, a bartender.

John Linder, a bystander in the saloon.

In addition to Green, the gunman, who is critically injured, the wounded are:

Carl Johnson, 28, shot in the chest, condition critical; Nick Galmatos, 41, bartender and brother of Gus Galmatos, neck wounds; John Nordstrom, 60, a janitor, neck wound; Horace Smith, 43, hotel night clerk, shot in the foot; Patrolman Leon L. Brown, 42, abdominal wounds, condition critical; Patrolman Edgar E. Barr, 40, arm wound.

Deputy Coroner Callahan quoted Green as saying: "I went to the speakeasy and there I met a man. We planned to hold up the place."

Club in Skidroad District.

Persons who saw the shooting, however, did not see any other man with the gunman. Green, altho critically wounded, was given a 50-50 chance to recover. He was taken to a hospital under police guard, where a bullet was extracted from his head.

What caused the gunman to open fire had not been determined. Police said he "just cut loose."

The doorman, Robert Doyle, told police Green came to the club shortly before 5 a. m. The club is located on the edge of what is known as the Skidroad district, notorious since gold rush days for its saloons and gambling. Doyle said that before he had time to stop him, Green was behind the bar, pointing a pistol at the two bartenders.

"I saw a shot fired," Doyle told Detective Captain Marshall C. Scrafford, "and the gun was leveled at me. I opened the door and locked it behind me, and as I ran up the steps to the street, I could see bullet holes being blasted into the wall right beside me."

Officers Crash In Door.

Doyle located Patrolmen Brown and Barr, and the two policemen crashed in the door, only to be met by more bullets. Brown fell wounded but continued firing. Barr, struck in the arm, went for reinforcements.

The gunman ran to a lavatory, reloaded his gun and returned. Then Berger Fosdal, a sawmill worker, seized a stool and slammed it down on the gunman's head. He told officers he hit the man four or five times, splintering the stool, before the gunman, on the floor, begged him:

"Don't hit me again. You've hit me enough."

Brown, who was among the dead, founded four commercial newspapers—The Seattle Daily Journal of Commerce, the Vancouver, B. C., Daily Journal of Commerce, the Toronto, Ont., Daily Commercial News, and the New Orleans Daily Journal of Commerce. Brown started newspaper work as a reporter on the Milwaukee, Wis., Sentinel. He later was city editor of the Menominee, Mich., Daily Leader.

The territories include the former Polish provinces of Lwow [Lemberg], Tarnopol, and Stanislawaw, it was stated.

OUST C. F. WILLS FROM 2 POSTS IN CHICAGO LABOR

Action Results from Aid to Caldwell.

Charles F. Wills.

The Chicago Federation of Labor, in a move unprecedented in labor circles, yesterday ousted Charles F. Wills as a member of its executive board and as business, advertising and circulation manager of the Federation News. He is the father-in-law and sponsor of Max Caldwell, ex-bootlegger and former czar of Chicago's clerks.

The ouster, voted 99 to 36 after a dramatic three hour session in Musicians' hall, 175 West Washington street, came after an arraignment of Wills by white haired John Fitzpatrick, federation president, and Wills' impassioned plea for "another chance." Fitzpatrick read his brief letter of July 21 requesting Wills to resign, and Wills' lengthy reply of refusal also was read.

Fitzpatrick Outlines Charges.

Fitzpatrick then resumed the rostrum to outline his charges against Wills, a power in Illinois labor circles for 30 years and now a member of the state unemployment compensation appeal board, and to ask the delegates to vote Wills out of office. The charges were:

1. That Wills collaborated with Caldwell in an attempt to coerce women food demonstrators into joining the Caldwell controled Retail Clerks International Protective association, local 1248.

2. That after the demonstrators won a separate charter, on Fitzpatrick's recommendation, Wills and Caldwell threatened to and did obtain the discharge of Joseph Briegel, international organizer instrumental in aiding the demonstrators. Briegel later was rehired after Fitzpatrick talked with William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor.

Charges Wills Is "Fixer."

3. That Wills appeared in court last year as "a fixer" when Caldwell and other clerks' union officials were arrested for allegedly terrorizing women demonstrators.

4. That his work as business manager of the Federation News was unsatisfactory.

5. That after the Chicago Federation of Labor suspended Caldwell's clerks' union for persistent refusal to halt activities against the new demonstrators' union, Wills allied himself with the Caldwell group as supervisor of local 1248.

6. That when Fitzpatrick wanted to see Wills on urgent union business he found that he was vacationing in Florida at the home of Caldwell.

Terrorism Continues.

Fitzpatrick amplified the last statement by saying that terrorism by Caldwell's union against the demonstrators continued after Wills was put in charge of the clerks' group, and that when he went to Wills' office to ask about it he found him absent. After an argument with Wills' secretary, Fitzpatrick said, he was given an address in care of Max Caldwell in Florida, and wired Wills in protest.

He received an answering wire, he said, in which Wills said he had been promised by officials of local 1248 that the activities in question would be halted, and in a later wire was informed by Wills that he had resigned as supervisor for the clerks' group, a resignation which representatives of the clerks' international union later said they had never seen.

"Felt Myself Guilty," Says Wills.

When Fitzpatrick finished, Wills rose to answer. He pleaded "a lifetime of honest, sincere effort in the labor movement" and added that after hearing Fitzpatrick talk "I felt guilty myself." Various members of the audience, including L. P. Straube, editor of the Federation News; Ben Parker, president of the Waiters' alliance, local 25, with which Caldwell once was associated, defended Wills.

Fitzpatrick, in his speech, mentioned that Wills, now receiving $4,700 for his state job, was paid $6,375.30 by the Chicago federation last year and collected $3,272.12 up to July 15 this year.

The whereabouts of an estimated $910,000 in funds of the clerks' union is now under investigation by William B. Crawford, assistant state's attorney, under direction of State's Attorney Courtney. Caldwell has said he doesn't know where it can be.

200 PLANES RAID BERLIN; REPORT 'VOLCANIC' FIRES

Blaze Visible for 80 Miles, Say RAF Fighters.

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP).—The royal air force, using between 200 and 300 planes, according to unofficial estimates, raided Berlin Saturday night, showering incendiaries and high explosives on the city so heavily that one pilot declared the fire was seen heaving "like a volcano" when he was already 80 miles away, homeward bound.

Gregory Daymond.

The Berlin success was followed today by a triumph for the American Eagle squadron as RAF flyers machine gunned German troops and shipping in widespread attacks on war stations in northern France and followed it up at night by showering coastal bases with bombs which lit up this side of the channel.

Squadron "Baby" Downs Third.

Gregory Augustus Daymond, 20 years old, of Los Angeles, "baby" of the Eagles, shot down the squadron's first German bomber, a Dornier 17, while on convoy patrol over the English channel. It was his third plane and the squadron's sixth.

The attack on Berlin was accompanied by other night raids on Kiel, Hamburg, and Cherbourg.

The ministry did not disclose the number of participating planes, merely observing that "a really strong force of four and two engined bombers" took part. Loss of four planes was acknowledged.

"I think we gave Berliners their money's worth," one pilot was quoted as saying.

So many planes flew over the Nazi capital, the air ministry news service said, that German anti-aircraft gunners found it impossible to concentrate on one plane, and thus the British were fairly free to dump their lethal loads.

Easy Target, Says Bomber.

The captain of one four engined bomber said he had no difficulty finding the heart of Berlin.

"Shells were bursting only a few feet beneath us," he said, "but we got thru. My rear gunner told me he could see clouds of black smoke coming up after our bombs hit the mark. Our flares had lighted up the buildings at which we were aiming."

[A German communique minimized the extent of the raids, declaring that the British dropped "a small number of explosive and incendiary bombs" on some communities in northwest and northern Germany, and characterized the forces which drove on Berlin as "weak."]

Nazis Claim 6 Ships Sunk.

BERLIN, Aug. 3 (AP).—The German high command's communique, speaking of the battle of the Atlantic, said the air force destroyed six merchant vessels yesterday, two of them tankers, in convoys off the east coast of England. The total tonnage was 40,000.

BARE U.S.-CANADA BORDER CROSSING BAN ON SOLDIERS

OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 3 (AP).—Canadian soldiers in uniform, except in special cases, are not permitted to enter the United States, an official of the external affairs department said tonight.

There is a mutual understanding between the United States and Canada whereby special permission has to be obtained before soldiers of one country may enter the other in uniform, he said.

The question of uniformed men crossing the border was raised by a statement of Inspector John L. Zurbrick of the United States immigration service at Detroit Saturday that a Canadian soldier in uniform might enter the United States if he had a pass from his commanding officer permitting him to cross the border.

Duke of Kent Begins Tour of Canada on Way to U.S.

WINNIPEG, Man., Aug. 3 (AP).—The duke of Kent and his party landed here tonight in three Royal Canadian air force planes for an overnight stop. They flew here from Ottawa, Ont., on the first leg of a tour of Canada which is to be followed by a visit with President Roosevelt in Hyde Park, N. Y., on Aug. 23 and to Washington, D. C., Aug. 24.

New Contact

Route from Djibouti, French Somaliland, to Marseilles, France, flown by Gaston Durmont.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

VICHY, France, Aug. 3.—A daring nonstop flight from North Africa by Gaston Durmont, chief pilot of Air France, commercial air organization, has reëstablished contact between Vichy and French Somaliland, it was disclosed today.

Gaston Durmont.

French Somaliland and its capital, Djibouti, on the Gulf of Aden, have long been blockaded by British warships and cut off from the interior by British troops. The colony has 2,500 French civilians.

Complaints have been made here that Frenchmen in Djibouti are being reduced to starvation and it was announced some time ago that negotiations were in progress with the British to remove women and children.

Durmont flew a ton of medical supplies and half a ton of mail to the colony. His flight was obviously made over heavily guarded areas.

On the return flight, it was announced, Durmont covered the 3,400 miles between Djibouti and Tunis in 16 hours, passing over fighting areas. He then flew to Marseilles.

His feat was said possibly to indicate that France proposes to continue stubbornly to defend Somaliland against the blockade.

Briton Sentenced for Plot to Blast Swedish Mines

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 3.—An English business man, long a resident of Stockholm, Sweden, has been sentenced to eight years in prison for an attempt to blow up machinery at the iron mines in Kiruna, northern Sweden, according to word received here. Arrested with high explosives in their baggage, he and his accomplices, who included some Swedish communists, confessed at their trial that they had been ordered to sabotage the mines.

SINK 2 AXIS SHIPS, DAMAGE ITALIAN CRUISER: BRITISH

Submarine War Flares in Mediterranean.

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP).—Sinking of two axis supply ships of 1,600 and 6,000 tons and the torpedoing of an Italian cruiser and a floating dock by British submarines was reported today by the admiralty, indicating a freshening of naval warfare in the Mediterranean.

The admiralty identified the cruiser as either the Eugenio di Savoia or the Emanuele Filiberto Duca d'Aosta, ships of 7,283 tons built in 1934 and 1935 and armed with eight 6-inch guns. Two torpedoes struck the cruiser, the communique said, but it was not ascertained whether the vessel went down.

Destroyers Screen 2 Cruisers.

When the attack was made, the admiralty said, the cruiser was sailing along with another 6-inch cruiser of the Garibaldi class. Both were screened by destroyers which immediately upon attack began circling and laying down a protective smoke screen.

The floating dock, towed by two tugs and escorted by a destroyer and two torpedo boats, was attacked less than a mile from the Italian coast, the admiralty said, and one torpedo hit it.

British sources in Cairo, Egypt, said yesterday British bombers and submarines were tightening their grip on the lifeline linking Italy with Libya, Africa, and were making more precarious the supply situation of the axis forces in North Africa.

RAF Raids Crete Airports.

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 3 (AP).—The RAF disclosed tonight that it had paid a return visit to Crete Friday night, heavily bombing the German held airdromes at Candia and Maleme, which were the scenes of bitterest fighting in the German conquest of that Greek island in May.

Torpedo British Naval Unit.

ROME, Aug. 3 (AP).—The Italian high command reported today that a large British naval unit had been torpedoed by a plane in the Mediterranean. The communique also said units of the Italian air force bombarded the naval base at Malta and the railway station at Matruh, Egypt.

[Berlin reports said German Mediterranean pilots damaged two British destroyers northwest of Matruh, and reported shooting down four British fighters. They also bombed Tobruk.]

RAF CLAIMS 90 SHIPS AS JULY TOLL IN NORTH SEA AND SCANDINAVIA

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP).—July was a successful month for RAF raiders hunting down German shipping, the press association reported today. It claimed 90 victims totaling nearly 300,000 tons in Scandinavian waters and the North sea alone.

Thirty-seven raids were made on German shipping during the month, the news agency said. It added that of the 90 vessels, some were sunk, others heavily damaged, and the remainder suffered direct hits.

In June, 39 RAF attacks in northern waters were said to have resulted in destruction or damage to some 30 ships totaling between 60,000 and 70,000 tons.

HINT BRITISH FORM FORCE TO INVADE NAZIS IN NORTH

English Hear Petsamo, Finland, May Be Goal.

LONDON, Aug. 3 (AP).—Hints that Britain may soon open a northern European front of her own on Germany's flank to help Russia abounded in London this week-end. Britain is known to have prepared a shock force for just such a job.

Rumors have flooded London in the last 48 hours. The latest and apparently most authentic was a report from Goteborg, Sweden, that a large British fleet was operating in the Arctic sea. There was no confirmation in London.

Service chiefs are loath to announce operations before their conclusion. Many correspondents, however, have believed for the last week that a large scale operation that would be of help to the Russians is in the making.

[It is noteworthy that this dispatch was passed thru the British censorship. Either an actual operation, such as suggested by the London rumors, or enough currency to the rumors alone, might in the British view serve to divert considerable German forces.]

Petsamo Might Be Goal.

It is obvious that Britain could best employ seapower in a land-water operation some distance from German air resources and near occupied territory in which resistance to German rule is believed to be growing.

This influences neutral observers to believe that an operation might take place in northern Finland, possibly near Petsamo and Rybachi Peninsula, at the northernmost point of the common Russian-Finnish frontier. Petsamo is a Finnish port and the peninsula is Russian territory.

The campaign would have a two-fold objective: opening of a line of supplies between this country and Russia, a line now menaced by German warships at Petsamo and other northern ports, and heartening of the Norwegians whose undercover resistance to the German occupying forces has resulted in rigid German regulations.

A raid by bombers of the British fleet air arm on Petsamo last Wednesday might be taken as the opening move in such an operation. Further raids on German airdromes, or possibly a landing by Britain's new assault troops to secure land bases, are not out of the question.

Air-Sea Base Needed.

It is difficult to assess the strength of such a thrust. The presence of the fleet air arm bombers off northern Finland and Norway means that an aircraft carrier is present. As carriers are vulnerable to U-boat attack, it is to be assumed that this carrier is accompanied by a considerable screening naval force.

If a naval preparation by bombing and shelling were successful, troops would be likely to follow.

If a landing could be made, it is logical to assume that an air and naval base would be established at Petsamo. From this point the British could convoy supplies to Russia and send bombers southeast to hammer German troops attacking Leningrad.

Mexico Interns Finnish Ship; May Take It Over

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 3 (AP).—Vera Cruz authorities have interned the Finnish freighter Hamhanland, a government source said tonight. The 3,875 ton vessel, which arrived at Vera Cruz two days ago, may be taken over by the government.

Russians Admit Pressure on Kiev

(Stories on page 1 and in adjoining column.)

The situation in the Russo-German war yesterday, as indicated from dispatches issued by both sides.

GERMANS FORGE VISE ABOUT KIEV, RUSSIANS ADMIT

Thrust North, South of Ukraine Capital.

Ukraine far south of the provincial capital of Kiev.

Dispatches from the fighting zones emphasized the bitterness of the Russian resistance, while stressing the heavy Red losses wherever the two armies were in contact. There were intimations, tho, that the eastern campaign was exacting many German sacrifices.

The outstanding official announcement concerning the eastern front was the high command's communique which said that 10,000 Russians had been captured west of Lake Peipus in Estonia, and that "many tanks, cannon, and other war material" had been seized.

Reach Leningrad Defenses.

DNB, official news agency, said an armored division had won valuable ground in the northwest, capturing thousands of Russians, 71 light and heavy tanks, and costing the Russians 2,300 dead and wounded in heavy fighting.

DNB also reported that the commanding general of an entire Russian army corps, whose name was not given and whose corps was not identified, had been captured.

A fractional but nevertheless important part of the outer defenses of Leningrad has been destroyed, the Germans claimed.

Claim New Encirclements.

The news from the Ukraine front was still unofficial but press dispatches were making much of the reported break thru the lines south of Kiev, and German tanks were reported running freely in the plains area. The reports said "numerous new encirclements" have been accomplished in the region.

In the vast battle area the Germans were said to be "keeping closely on the heels" of the slowly withdrawing Russians, while the Nazi air force was especially active. One unit of flyers claimed the destruction of eight tanks and 423 motor vehicles, 30 cannon and five trains. Trains were also attacked on the Moscow-Leningrad rail line.

An attack by Nazi planes on the Murmansk region, far above the arctic circle, was also reported. German reports said that fortifications in that area as well as moving columns and two trains were effectively bombed.

FINLAND CLAIMS THOUSANDS OF GUNS CAPTURED

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

HELSINGFORS, Finland, Aug. 3.—Finland's first list of war material captured from the Red army during July was published today. It included 10,000 rifles, 400 automatic rifles, 250 machine guns, 300 mortars, and various types of guns, including several dozen heavy cannon, 13 railroad engines, and hundreds of cars, some loaded with cereals and other goods, about 100 automobiles and tractors, a large amount of motor fuel, and 1,500 horses.

The announcement said that the rapid progress of the Finnish army and the wide areas which have been acquired, as well as poor roads, had hindered collection and registration of all of the captured material.

PETAIN CONFERS WITH NAVY AND ARMY CHIEFTAINS

Government Calm Over Paris' Demands.

VICHY, France, Aug 3 (AP).—In an unusual Sunday morning session, Chief of State Henri Philippe Petain conferred today with the naval and military leaders of his inner cabinet. The atmosphere in government circles was calm despite a campaign by Paris newspapers for closer collaboration with Germany.

The campaign has centered on a demand for joint German-French defense of Dakar, French West Africa, and other strong points of French Africa, against any United States occupation. The press has implied that a thoro shakeup of the Vichy government is necessary to achieve this.

No Hint of "Stampede."

Persons who talked with Marshal Petain said he was showing "the usual tenacity of purpose" behind a smiling face and was unlikely to be stampeded.

Admiral Jean Darlan, who is vice premier, foreign minister and chief of the navy, along with Defense Minister Charles Huntziger, Colonial Minister Rene Platon, and a representative of the finance ministry attended today's meeting.

Petain at "His Greatest."

Paul Marion, secretary general of information for the Petain government, in a speech at Marseilles declared the marshal had shown himself at his greatest at the end of yesterday's cabinet meeting "when he confided to one of his ministers his most intimate thought: 'Up to now I have only given my person. I am ready fc the salvation of France to give up my popularity.'"

What this meant no one seemed to know or be ready to say.

ROOSEVELT OFF ON YACHT FOR SHORT VACATION

New London, Conn., Aug. 3 (AP).—President Roosevelt put out to sea tonight aboard the White House yacht Potomac from the navy's submarine base here on a vacation voyage scheduled for a week or 10 days. Not even the Potomac's crew knew where the yacht was bound. The President arrived here by train from Washington earlier in the day.

The White House requested a "blackout" on news of the trip and reporters were not allowed to follow the President, as is customary, on an escort ship. The Potomac holds a commission in the navy, and the word was out that her movements were to be regarded as confidential, just as are those of other naval craft.

All the President planned to do, aids said, was to proceed leisurely, fishing where he pleased and never going ashore.

Accompanying him were a pair of old fishing companions, Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire and Maj. Gen. E. M. Watson. McIntire is his personal physician and surgeon general of the navy. Watson a secretary and military aid.

Hull Will Return to Job Today After Month's Rest

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull returned to the capital tonight and planned to be back on the job at the state department tomorrow morning after an absence of more than a month. Hull had been resting at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., at his physician's direction.

Leaders of France Confer

Defense Minister Charles Huntziger (left), Chief of State Henri Philippe Petain (center) and Admiral Jean Darlan, who conferred in Vichy yesterday in an unusual session that is reported to have dealt with the demands for joint German-French defense of Dakar.

BRITAIN CORNERS WORLD'S RAW WOOL SUPPLIES

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 4, Monday.—Britain has cornered the world's raw wool supplies by buying the whole Australasian clip and making heavy purchases in South America, the East Indies, and South Africa, the Daily Mail said today.

Since the war began, the paper stated, Britain has bought approximately $400,000,000 worth of wool. This big scale buying, it said, assures raw materials, meets the enormous wartime demand for woolens, and was a boon to producing countries.

Much of the wool is being stored in the United States, and will be used after the war, it was declared.

400 AT MANILA FLEE HOMES IN TEST EVACUATION

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 4 [Monday]—(AP).—Four hundred Manila civilians were routed from their homes and hurried to an outlying area yesterday in Manila's first practice evacuation under simulated wartime conditions.

Army officials described the moving of residents from a slum area to San Mateo, Rizal province, as an excellent performance. The civilians were ordered from their homes by police and transported the 16 miles to San Mateo in 30 minutes. They were fed by the Red Cross and housed temporarily by San Mateo residents on short notice.

Manila taxicab owners placed all cabs under military control.

BRITISH HOLIDAY 'REBELS' FORCED HOME BY HUNGER

Press Mourns 'Waste' of 700 Trains.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 4 [Monday].—Thousands of Britons who ignored the government's appeal to stay home during the three day August bank holiday which began Saturday morning were forced to return to London last night tired, bedraggled, and disgusted—for there were no accommodations and very little to eat at the rural and seaside resorts to which they flocked, according to this morning's Daily Express.

The ministry of food, the paper stated, refused to send extra supplies to holiday resorts. As a result, rationed foods ran out and large numbers of travelers found themselves standing in seemingly endless queues in an effort to buy unrationed foods.

700 Trains "Go to Waste."

The Daily Herald said that more than 700 trains had to be run during the week-end to cope with the holiday traffic, 200 running out of London alone.

The Herald said that in terms of Britains war effort the trains consumed 5,000 tons of coal urgently needed for defense, made more than 4,000 railway men work extra days, congested main lines and delayed trains carrying vital war supplies. The 700 trains, the paper concluded, could have carried nearly 750,000 tons of goods.

Call It "Disturbing Phenomenon."

The Herald, under the editorial headline "The Rebels," flayed the holiday attitude of the public. "Last week," it said, "the prime minister warned the nation that the invasion season is at hand. Yet yesterday on hundreds of Britain's beaches—beaches which soon may be scenes of bloody, desperate combat; beaches where Britain's troops may die by the tens of thousands—you could see families picnicking. It isn't enough to dismiss this disturbing phenomenon with shouts of 'Shame.' We must look deeper . . ."

The Daily Mail, under the headline "Holiday Towns to Go Hungry," said residents of many seaside towns "face a whole week of famine unless Food Minister Lord Woolton makes emergency arrangements to restore what the holiday seekers ate up."

Strengthen Border

(Story in adjoining column.)

Arrow locates border between Malaya and Thailand (Siam), where British are reported to have concentrated thousands of their toughest troops in expectation of a showdown with Japan, which has stationed troops at Saigon.

BRITISH MASSED AT SIAM LINE FOR JAP SHOWDOWN

Writer Tells of 'Finest Troops' in Malaya.

BY RELMAN MORIN.

SAIGON, French Indo-China, Aug. 3 (AP).—The British have placed thousands of their finest troops, mainly tough Australians and the pick of the Indian regiments, on the Malaya-Thailand [Siam] border in expectation of a showdown with the Japanese. The troops are equipped not only with tanks and heavy artillery, but secret weapons designed for jungle warfare.

These things I have just seen while inspecting the entire area outside Singapore, Straits Settlements, traveling by train, bicycle, and ox cart across the "no man's territory" between Thailand and Indo-China. The frontier is still closed despite the cessation of hostilites between the Siamese and the French Indo-Chinese, and no newspaper man had been there since a Dutch correspondent was killed in the border warfare last November.

Everywhere along the border were British forces, including a contingent of 150 royal air force pilots and crews who arrived recently. Moreover, the British are preparing room for additional thousands of Australian infantrymen.

All these preparations are the result of the belief by the British in Singapore that Japan is exerting, and will continue to exert, pressure on Thailand for naval and air bases.

The atmosphere in Bangkok, capital of Thailand, is one of extreme uncertainty. Some sections of the Thai government seem to regret having accepted Japanese mediation of the dispute with Indo-China, and feel it is impossible to refuse whatever proposals Japan may make.

Well informed sources in Bangkok assert flatly that Japan is demanding bases in Thailand and access to vital raw materials.

CHARGE BRITISH SEEK TO EXPEL NAZIS FROM IRAN

ANKARA, Turkey, Aug. 3.—The British-German diplomatic war in Iran continued to occupy attention here today as the Germans issued charges that the British were seeking the expulsion of all Germans in Iran.

A Teheran, Iran, dispatch put out by DNB, official German news agency, said the British minister in Teheran had demanded expulsion of Germans either resident or traveling in Iran. Diplomatic sources here said the dispatch was "considerably exaggerated" and several days late. It was said the British minister last week sought to persuade the Iranian foreign office that the presence of large numbers of Germans in Iran would constitute a grave threat to that country's independence if Germany is successful in a drive upon the Russian Caucasus. It is estimated there are 3,000 Germans in Iran.

German Citizen of U. S. Taken Off Ship by British

ABOARD LINER EXCAMBION, AT SEA, Aug. 3.—British authorities today took off Heinz Eckert, a native German but a naturalized American subject, when the Excambion called at Hamilton, Bermuda, for inspection of passengers and mail. Eckert has been a Cook's Travel agency employé in Berlin. The British gave no reason for their action. Eckert, it was said, had made no secret of his anti-British views to passengers.

Troops Parade for Barber; He Gets World War Citation

BALBOA, Panama Canal Zone, Aug. 3.—The 3d battalion of the 33d infantry was reviewed at Fort Clayton yesterday by Wuareley Papazian, the post barber, as he was presented with the order of the Purple Heart by Maj. Gen. Walter M. Prosser, commanding the Panama mobile force. Papazian, the citation read, continued to fight after being wounded in action during the Cantigny offensive in the World war. He was a private in the 18th infantry.

Chicagoan Drowns When Swimming Near Antioch

Stanley J. Reinhart, 25 years old, 5419 Haddon avenue, was drowned yesterday while swimming in Petite lake, near Antioch, in Lake county. He went down in 12 feet of water. Friends told police he had been suffering from a heart ailment. It is believed a heart attack preceded his drowning.

FRANCE'S STATE WORKERS TO GET BOMBING BONUS

VICHY, France, Aug. 3.—Bonuses will be paid to France's state employés who stick to their jobs in towns in the occupied zone "that are subjected to frequent and intensive bombardments."

Orders published today stated the rates will be 30 cents a day for heads of families with children, 20 cents for heads of families without children, and 16 cents for other workers. The sums will be slightly reduced if serious damage to property makes work irregular.

The French government will pay the bonus.

ARGENTINES FIND EVIDENCE OF WIDE NAZI MOVEMENT

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Aug. 3 (AP).—Argentine authorities claimed tonight to have evidence of a widely ramified movement to set up a totalitarian government for Argentina. It had plied up, they said, since raids were started Thursday night on branches of the German welfare and cultural society at Parana, reputed hotbed of Nazi activity. Reports from authorities and documents they have seized are being coördinated here by a committee investigating anti-Argentine activities. Police at Parana issued a list of 134 persons under investigation as participants in the movement.

U. S. OPENS NEW ANTI-AXIS DRIVE ON TWO FRONTS

Work Begun by Strategy and Economic Boards.

tries has been organized chiefly by the committee for commercial and cultural relations between the American republics, which is headed by Nelson A. Rockefeller. The blacklist of axis firms in Latin America was the result of this committee's activities.

The Rockefeller committee, however, scored a signal failure in an effort to outbribe the Nazis in Latin America. It has been notorious for years that a large part of the Latin American press is subsidized by Germany. Regular payments are made by German diplomats to South and Central American newspapers, which in return therefor carry news and editorial matter favorable to Germany and unfavorable to the United States, most of it supplied by the German officials.

The Rockefeller committee allocated $600,000 of government funds to buy advertising in Latin American newspapers with a view to winning them away from the Nazis.

This campaign was called off by the state department three weeks after its initiation. The department had been deluged with complaints from its representatives in Latin America, who had not been let in on the scheme in advance.

Complain on Distribution.

The diplomatic corps, including ambassadors, ministers, and consular agents, complained that the advertisments were being placed in newspapers which showed pro-axis leanings as well as those which had remained neutral or were definitely anti-axis. In many cases this embarrassed diplomats who had promised local publishers that they would receive advertising money spent by the United States only if they stayed out of the axis camp.

Other diplomats complained against the move by the government to buy newspaper space for what seemed to them to be propaganda purposes, a practice which the state department has avoided. A few even objected to the matter included in the advertisments.

Real Aim Made Obvious.

The campaign on the surface was supposed to promote travel by Latin Americans to the United States. Members of the committee admitted privately from the beginning, however, that the campaign could not hope to bring $600,000 worth of tourist business to the United States.

This, American diplomats said, was obvious to Latin Americans who read the advertisments, particularly since the shortage of ships and the unfavorable rate of exchange made travel to the United States practically impossible. It made equally obvious the real aim of the campaign, which was to combat Nazi propaganda by beating the Germans at their own game—the subsidization of newspapers.

The campaign, a project with the approval of the state department, involved contracts with about 350 newspapers, which were to receive full-page advertisments weekly for a period of 40 weeks. It was brought to an end gradually and quietly after the committee had spent some $90,000 of its budget for an average of six insertions in the 350 papers.

WILLKIE AIDING PLOT TO DRAG AMERICA INTO WAR, THOMAS CHARGES

New York, Aug. 3 (AP).—Wendell L. Willkie was accused today of being part of an "open or tacit conspiracy of administration spokesmen to fool the American people into total war" in a statement issued by Norman Thomas, national chairman of the Socialist party.

Thomas declared Willkie's recent statement in refusing to debate him on the invitation of the mayor of Ellwood, Ind., was "palpably absurd" and asserted that "Mr. Willkie's excuses suggest that he is afraid of his own case." Willkie had said "there are no war issues in the United States today."

Thomas said that during the 1940 Presidential campaign Willkie had been "the great advocate of public debate" but that now Willkie avoided "debate in front of his own townsmen of issuer which are stirring great debate in congress."

STEPHEN A. DAY LASHES AT STREIT 'UNION NOW' MOVE

Four Debate on British Federation Plan.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Clarence K. Streit, author of a plan for "Union Now" with Great Britain, defended his proposal as in keeping with the spirit of the American revolution in a debate on the American Forum of the Air over the Mutual network tonight while Representative Stephen A. Day [R., Ill.] declared that "no American could call his soul his own if we joined with Britain."

"Union Now" with Great Britain would be "very much like marrying Uncle Sam off to a British widow with six children, all of whom had the measles and a host of unpaid doctor bills," stated Representative Mundt [R., S. D.] in the four-man radio debate. Also participating in the discussion was Dr. Frank Kingdon, chairman of the New York chapter of the Committee to Defend America.

A Way to Meet Danger.

Streit told the audience: "No solution of the world problem facing us could be more American than our proposal to form a Federal union now with the six democracies of the British commonwealth—Canada, England, Eire, South Africa, Australia, and New Zealand."

"We would have these seven free speaking peoples do with Adolf the First as the thirteen did with George III.—meet this great danger and opportunity. Contrast the way we are now meeting that danger and opportunity with that old American way and see if it rings true," he challenged.

A Problem of Caste.

Kingdon warned that "the whole spiritual integrity of the world is threatened, and our involvement is inescapable."

Day, who recently charged Streit's organization with being "un-American" and asked for investigation by the Dies committee, is author of the book, "We Must Save the Republic," opposing federation with Great Britain.

"What chance would a plain every day American have in a British caste society?" He asked. "Would Mrs. Roosevelt be the Duchess of Hyde Park?

"'Union now,' he said, 'would split America asunder into groups and factions who, at first heart-broken, would then become sullen."

In agreement was Mundt who told the audience: "'Union Now' would require the scrapping of the Declaration of Independence. To transfer the destiny of the United States out of the new world where it has flowered so brightly back to the old world whose woes it escaped to form a new nation, I am unalterably opposed."

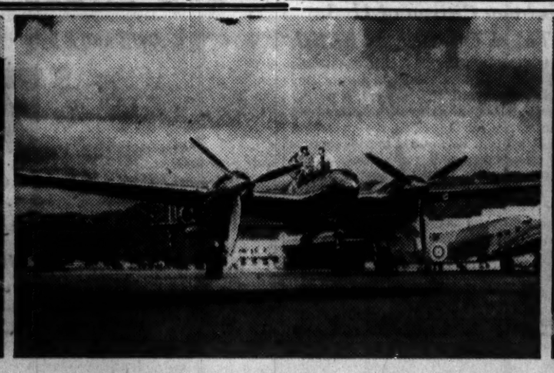
SIX, SEVEN MILES UP! In air no man can breathe—and live! Motors—now even pilots are "super-charged." On the stationary bicycle (above) Marshall Headle, chief test pilot of Lockheed, breathes pure oxygen for 30 minutes before a test flight in Lockheed's new interceptor—one of America's newest high-altitude fighters.



SHE CLIMBS A MILE A MINUTE—dives at speeds which are Army secrets. They call her "Lightning." Test pilot Headle clambers into the cockpit, switches from a pocket oxygen flask to his cabin supply, and streaks for the stratosphere. He's test-flown 300 different planes. But when he lands, it's always..."Now for a Camel."

YOU CAN'T SEE HIM up there. You can scarcely hear the hum of his motors. Then his voice comes into the radio tower: "Headle—35,000 feet—diving now." And as he comes plummeting down in that shrieking power-dive, you just hope! Seconds later—yes, seconds—he's landing. And here he is (above) cool, calm, lighting up a Camel.

THE SMOKE'S THE THING!

The smoke of slower-burning Camels contains than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—less than any of them—according to independent scientific tests of the smoke itself

BY BURNING 25% SLOWER than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—Camels also give you a smoking plus equal, on the average, to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company Winston-Salem, N. C.

"Less nicotine in the smoke means more mildness to me," says test pilot Marshall Headle (above), as he lights up his... and America's... favorite cigarette

THERE may be little traffic at 35,000 feet, but test-diving any new, untried plane is no Sunday joy-ride. No, not even for a veteran like Marshall Headle (above).

Naturally, cigarette mildness is important to Marshall Headle. And in the slower-burning cigarette of costlier tobaccos... Camels... he gets extra mildness—with less nicotine in the smoke.

What cigarette are you smoking now? Chances are it's one of the five included in the nicotine tests reported above at the left—tests which trace Camel's advantage right down to the actual smoke itself. Obviously, the smoke's the thing!

BRITON EXPLAINS CANADIANS' WAR EFFORTS TO U. S.

Says He Seeks to Clear Up 'Misconceptions.'

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3 (AP).—Malcolm MacDonald, British high commissioner to Canada, said today that Canada is devoting more than 40 per cent of her national income to active prosecution of the war and that about 16 per cent of this amount is being used to pay for supplies sent to Great Britain.

Malcolm MacDonald.

At a press conference, which he said was designed to clear up some "misconceptions" of the Canadian war effort prevalent in the United States, the high commissioner also declared that:

1. One hundred thousand Canadian troops are now in Britain at strategic points of possible invasion.

2. All young men between the ages of 21 and 24 are being conscripted for home defense for the duration of the war. After four months of intensive military training they are sent to military posts to relieve regular army forces for overseas duty.

Gets Volunteers for Overseas.

3. Canada is getting all the men she requires for overseas service thru voluntary recruiting. The last call netted one and a half times the number requested.

4. Thousands of youthful pilots — Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders, Americans, and British—are in dozens of air training schools thruout the dominion. Twice as many pilots, observers, and air gunners are being sent overseas as was contemplated a year ago.

5. In addition to 200,000 men in the home defense service, Canada has 300,000 on active duty with the army, navy, and air force. Based on comparative populations, he said, this latter figure is equivalent to an armed force of 3 million in the United States.

Denies Cash Is Demanded.

6. French Canadian sentiment toward the war is much better from the standpoint of the British Commonwealth than during the world war.

"I have seen it said in the United States," MacDonald told reporters, "that Canada is asking Britain to pay cash on the barrel head for war supplies. This is not true. The taxpayers of Canada will pay $1,150,000,000 during the current fiscal year for supplies that are being given and lent to Britain. The idea that Canada is asking cash is a myth."

MacDonald based his comments on a three month tour of Canada.

Clipper Returns to Manila to Escape Guam Typhoon

MANILA, P. I., Aug. 3 (AP).—The Philippine Clipper returned unexpectedly from Guam today to avoid a typhoon reported bearing down on that Pacific island naval station. Eleven passengers who had left Manila on the Clipper for San Francisco were landed at Guam. Manila weather bureau officials said the typhoon would miss the Philippine Islands. Small ships were ordered to sea from Guam to ride out the storm which was approaching from the southeast.

Swastikas Found Painted on School; Blame Hoodlums

Woodlawn police blamed young neighborhood hoodlums yesterday for several large Nazi swastikas painted on the Wadsworth school, 64th street and University avenue. Several residents near the school have complained of being disturbed by the young gang, police said, and the same gang was thought to be responsible for broken windows in several Jewish shops last week.

HOLT DENOUNCES WAR SHOUTERS; ASKS U. S. POLL

Ex-Senator Tells People's Stand Against Entry.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 3 [Special].—United States Senator Joseph H. Ball [R., Minn.] was branded a minority howler for war in a speech here today by Rush D. Holt, former United States senator from West Virginia.

Joseph H. Ball.

Holt, a Democrat, addressed a massmeeting of the Mothers of Minnesota. Approximately 4,000 persons attended. The former senator assailed both the Roosevelt administration's foreign policy and Senator Ball's support of it and called for a poll on the issue of America's entrance into the war.

"You cannot have national unity when the American people realize that their will to keep out of war is being thwarted by a few in Washington and in the money centers of our country," Holt said.

People's Stand Cited.

"The American people don't want war. They believed the President when he said he hated war. They believed him when he said no American boys would be sent abroad to fight. The way to national unity is for the officials in Washington to restore the faith of the people in their word. Subterfuge and hypocrisy is no way to unity."

Referring to the visit of Harry L. Hopkins, President Roosevelt's lend-lease coördinator, to Dictator Josef Stalin in Moscow, Holt said: "Hopkins ought to be able to talk Joe Stalin's language. He has enough of Joe's friends around him in Washington."

Holt also assailed Wendell L. Willkie, the 1940 Republican Presidential candidate.

"The 1940 election was the old shell game," Holt said. "The men who are attacking democracy are those men who engineered the fraud in 1940. They are the men who cause people to lose confidence in democracy. They know that Willkie and President Roosevelt were shadow boxing.

"But at last three Presidential candidates have gotten together—and in praise of Russia. Roosevelt and Willkie have joined Browder."

The keynote of Holt's address was national unity—unity for peace.

Seven Groups Identified.

He said the minority howling for war consists of the following seven groups:

1. Politicians who have failed to solve domestic problems and who look at the war as a way to spend money and cause the people to forget their own failures.

2. The social crowd that likes to attend war teas and cocktail parties with the Morgans, Lamonts, Lehmans, and Warburgs.

3. Americans, such as advocates of Union Now, who have forgotten this nation's independence.

Getting the Railroad Ready

ILLINOIS CENTRAL

Nothing is surer than that the railroads will have their hands full this fall to handle BOTH the upturn in civilian traffic AND the added defense load. You may be interested in what the Illinois Central is doing to prepare for it.

We have added 5,377 new freight cars in 1940-41, and 2,400 more will be delivered before the end of the year.

Our stepped-up repair program has produced a record low of only 1.8 per cent of freight cars out of service.

Locomotives have been overhauled and improved, with greater coal and water capacities, increased speed and tractive effort.

Running tracks have new rail, new ties, new ballast; sidings have been lengthened; new yard and storage tracks are being provided, plus added trackage to serve defense plants and army posts.

To get the utmost out of what we have calls for HEADS UP railroading. We pledge ourselves to conserve materials—and cars—and time in every way we can.

Shippers and receivers of freight can assist greatly by loading cars to capacity, loading and unloading cars promptly and moving this summer whatever they can—such as coal—to lighten the demand later on.

With the help of our patrons, ON WHOM WE SHALL GREATLY DEPEND, we hope to carry through—to the benefit of our country's needs and of our railroad's reputation.

YOUR hair can be harmed or helped easier in the summer than at any other season. Improper exposure to the sun is sure to result in abnormal hair-fall. On the other hand, it is a known scientific fact that hair normally grows faster in the summer than at any other season. You can take advantage of this seasonal peculiarity by learning how and when to expose your hair and scalp to the summer sun.

A Thomas scalp expert will gladly examine your hair and scalp (without charge) and advise you in detail as to how to care for your hair during the summer months. ANTI-WAR VOTE IS 9 TO 1 IN NEW WISCONSIN POLL

Big Majority for Peace in Two Other Straws.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—Another member of congress announced today that his constituents have served notice on him thru a straw poll that they do not want this country to become involved in Europe's war. Overwhelming opposition to American participation in the conflict has been shown in the last week in two other straw polls taken by members of congress to gauge the war sentiment back home.

Results of the latest poll were announced by Representative Lewis D. Thill [R., Wis.] who said he sent postcard ballots to every 10th voter registered for the 1940 Presidential election in his district, the 5th, which includes part of Milwaukee.

Thill Gets 3,850 Replies.

To date Thill has received 3,850 returns of which 286, or 7.43 per cent, were cast in favor of American entrance in the war, while 3,564, or 92.57 per cent, were opposed.

Thill's poll is similar in form to one conducted by THE TRIBUNE last month which showed the overwhelming anti-war feeling in Illinois. Ballots were distributed to every 10th registered voter in Chicago and Cook county and in nine downstate cities to test the relative strength of interventionists and noninterventionists.

At the time, a representative of the Committee to Defend America by Aiding the Allies termed the type of poll as "well designed for precise sampling on a 10 per cent basis."

Ward and Suburb Votes.

The following table shows percentage votes which have been cast in Thill's poll for and against war in Milwaukee wards and suburbs making up his district:

Ward.	Against war.	For war.
1	86.86	13.13
2	87.50	12.50
6	84.61	15.38
7	93.22	6.77
9	92.42	7.57
10	90.76	9.23
13	88.53	11.46
15	91.69	8.30
18	91.61	8.38
19	94.71	5.28
20	96.44	3.55
21	88.88	11.11
22	95.49	4.50
25	92.33	7.66
26	95.32	4.67
Granville	94.64	5.35
Shorewood	86.93	13.06
Whitefish Bay	91.93	8.06
Fox Point	87.50	12.05
River Hills	77.77	22.22
Town of Milwaukee	94.23	5.76

In another section of the country—far from Milwaukee—a second poll has brought replies indicating that more than 80 per cent of the people there are against war. It is being taken by Representative Knute Hill [D., Wash.], who sent out ballots to each of the 96,000 registered voters in his district, the 4th, in southeastern Washington, on the questions whether the United States should enter the war, and whether warships should be used to convoy supplies to Great Britain.

Far West Against War.

On the first question, he said, latest returns shows 2,896 in favor of war and 16,606 opposed. On the question of convoys the result was: Yes, 4,570, and no, 15,051.

The third poll is being conducted by Representative Harry Sauthoff [Prog., Wis.], whose district, the 2d, includes Madison, the state capital. He sent out 157,500 ballots, one to every registered voter in the district. Voters were asked to indicate their choice of:

"The United States should enter the war," or, "the United States should not enter the war."

Up until today he had received 62,158 replies, of which 58,557 are against American participation and 3,601 are in favor of it. Sauthoff noted that the ratio of noninterventionist strength is almost 17 to 1 over that of the interventionist.

Urges Other Polls.

Sauthoff explained that he fears the administration policies are bringing the nation close to the brink of war and he decided on a straw poll as the best means for determining how he will vote should the war question be brought before congress. In announcing the results of the poll from the house floor he has urged his colleagues to take similar steps for their guidance in considering current legislation.

STRUCK BY BATTED BALL.

Austin Newby, 15 years old, 3525 Ellis avenue, was given first aid at the county hospital yesterday after he had been struck in the stomach with a batted ball while watching a sandlot baseball game in McKinley park.

Keep Americans from Death on Foreign Fields: R. J. Lyons

Richard J. Lyons.

"Thou shalt not send American boys to die for European or Asiatic intrigues" should be added to the Ten Commandments by the American people, Richard J. Lyons, Illinois Republican leader, declared yesterday in discussing his reasons for joining the ranks of America First committee speakers.

Lyons will share the platform with former Gov. Philip La Follette of Wisconsin at a massmeeting to be held in Evanston Township High school Thursday night.

Recalls Stand in 1938.

"The same reasons that impelled me to run for the United States senate in 1938 cause me to speak for the America First committee," Lyons said. "I could see the present situation developing then and I rarely made a speech without urging 'adequate defense, but not one son nor one cent for foreign wars.'

"I said the same thing when I ran for governor last year—and I say it now. When Washington wrote his statement about avoiding entangling alliances it was good, hard, common sense—and it is now. If that is outmoded, so are the Ten Commandments, but both statements of principle are as up-to-date as they ever were."

Cites World Court Defeat.

President Roosevelt follows the repudiated ideas of Woodrow Wilson just as truly now as when he made speeches urging that the United States join a world court, Lyons said. The proposal was defeated in congress.

"Now it appears that we are to join some such court not by the action of congress but by the inaction of congress," Lyons said.

In his speech Thursday night Lyons said he will stress that intolerance grows in the soil of war hysteria. Our efforts to stamp out intolerance across the seas are the very means of transplanting it to America, he contends.

"Recently we have seen in our own country man against man, church against church, over the question of what is best for the United States so far as Europe is concerned," he said.

WARNING BY LA FOLLETTE

Immediate entry of the United States into the European war would not greatly affect its outcome and would mean the loss of the last vestiges of freedom in America, Philip La Follette, three times governor of Wisconsin, asserted yesterday in a radio broadcast over W-G-N and the Mutual Broadcasting system.

The war will be decided this year, with or without American intervention, La Follette predicted. He added that "congress can't appropriate time; it takes time to build arms and machines of war."

Debates Columbia Professor.

La Follette participated in a discussion, "America's Responsibility in the World Today," on the Northwestern University reviewing stand. His opponent was William H. Kilpatrick, Columbia university professor of education, who said the United States must guarantee the defeat of Hitler by any means necessary.

"If the administration takes the United States into war in violation of the will of our own people the consequences will be terrific," he continued. "War will mean bitterness, hate, and animosity and, finally, the loss of all freedom.

"When the interventionists start out to make the world safe for democracy they are violating the first principle of democracy, with 80 per cent of our people opposed to war."

"U. S. Must Help Win Peace."

Dr. Kilpatrick, who is a visiting professor of education at Northwestern this summer, said the United States must help Great Britain defeat Hitler even at the cost of entering the war ourselves.

After the war is won the United States must help win the peace, Dr. Kilpatrick said. "In this we failed the world in 1920; we must not fail it again."

La Follette and Dr. Kilpatrick will discuss "America's Responsibility in the Postwar World" next Sunday at 10 a. m. in another W-G-N-Mutual broadcast of the reviewing stand.

SWIMMER TESTS 10 P. M. CLOSING RULE ON BEACHES

Park district regulations forbid swimming at patroled beaches after 10 p. m., but in the opinion of Hugh K. Hooks Jr., 33 years old, 66 East Division street, a salesman, the regulations are unconstitutional.

He refused to get out of the water at Oak street beach at 10 p. m., and life guards called Sergt. Maurice Begnar and Policeman William Gruber of the park police. Hooks emerged long enough to proclaim he was a citizen and taxpayer, that Lake Michigan was federal water, and it was his constitutional right to swim after 10 p. m. if he desired.

Then he dived back into the water, calling, "Come and get me." The policemen couldn't—they were in full uniform—but half a dozen life guards accepted Hooks' challenge. They brought him in. Police took him to the station. Tomorrow Hooks will be arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct in the Chicago avenue court where, he announced, he will make a test case of his right to swim after 10 p. m.

YOUTH SHOT IN STREET.

Peter Galassi, 16 years old, 6729 South Marshfield avenue, was shot in the groin near his home last night. He told police he was hit by a stray bullet. They are investigating.

HOT AND PLENTY OF SUNSHINE, IS FORECAST TODAY

(Picture on back page.)

Temperatures as high as 92 to 96 degrees and near maximum sunshine is the prediction for today by Forecaster G. E. Dunn. The humidity will be about normal.

Yesterday's warm weather drove thousands to the city beaches and parks. Golf courses and swimming pools were popular, and boating enthusiasts were out in force. It was the 11th consecutive day with no measurable amount of rain, Dunn said, and none is in sight.

July had only 34 per cent of normal rainfall, and since June 20 the rainfall has been only 25 per cent of normal. As a result trees, flowers, and lawns thruout Chicagoland are impaired, and in southern Illinois the rain shortage has threatened the drinking supply in the area between Springfield and Cairo, Dunn said.

1,500 ACCORDION PLAYERS TO ADD FESTIVAL THRILL

Performers from 6 States to Be in Band.

Festival Tickets!

Tickets for the Chicagoland Music Festival, to be held Saturday night, Aug. 16, in Soldiers' field, are on sale at 50 cents and $1 at THE TRIBUNE'S Public Service offices in Tribune Tower and at 1 South Dearborn street. All seats are reserved. Mail order checks should be made payable to Tribune Charities, Inc.

BY CHARLES LEAVELLE.

In the spring of 1938, while plans were being laid for the 9th Chicagoland Music Festival, it came to the attention of the festival managers that in the eight previous shows they had overlooked probably the most popular instrument of all — the accordion.

There had been accordion contests and soloists, but never had the instrument been featured in a presentation of full festival dimensions.

It was Capt. Howard Stube, who has been associated with all the festivals, who proposed an accordion band, calling attention to similar groups in the east and in Europe.

Better Representation.

It was agreed that in this festival for the people, an instrument of such popularity should be better represented. But would an accordion band command attention in the vast reaches of Soldiers' field?

"This one will," said Stube. "It will have 1,000 players."

They told him to go ahead. His wide acquaintance in the musical world [he is president of the Chicago Public Schools Band association] gave him a flying start. For weeks he recruited, trained, and rehearsed his army of accordionists.

On festival night their music rose in Soldiers' field like the majestic tones of a mighty organ. The flood lights glinting on the chromium and silver and the keys of the instruments made a magnificent spectacle. The storm of applause that followed the seven minute performance established the accordion band.

1,500 to Be in Band.

At the 12th Chicagoland Festival, to be held Saturday night, Aug. 16, in Soldiers' field, an accordion band of 1,500 from half a dozen states will lift its mighty voice. Boys and girls and men and women will move into the field carrying 15 tons of accordions with a value of $375,000.

Some of the youngsters will be playing small instruments of limited range, but most of the accordions will have cost hundreds of dollars, and there will be many valued at $2,000.

The band will be backed by 20 drums and 6 tubas, as well as string basses to supply the necessary rhythm as it plays the ever popular "Celito Lindo," by Fernandez. Its members will rehearse together twice before festival night; at 7 p. m. Friday, Aug. 15, and 3 p. m. Saturday, the 16th, in Soldiers' field.

Director to Be Picked.

The band will be conducted by the director of the accordion group that wins the festival contest to be held Saturday at 9 a. m. in the Chicago Towers club. At the same time and place, accordion soloists also will be vying for honors. Music has been sent to entrants in the following cities and towns:

Ashton, Cherry Valley, Aurora, La Salle, Peoria, Decatur, Belleville, Spring Valley, Champaign, Nashville, De Kalb, Dixon, Rockford, Springfield, East Moline, Morris, Rock Island, and Ottawa, Ill.; Fort Wayne and Garrett, Ind.; Beaver Dam, Elkhorn, and Janesville, Wis., and Flint, Mich.

Applications have been received and music is on the way to other accordionists in Iowa and Ohio. The large number of Illinois entrants was due in part to the efforts of the Illinois Accordion Band association of which Ray Bannon of La Salle is president and Joe Daurer of De Kalb secretary. The association was formed a year ago at Starved Rock State park, near La Salle.

CHICAGO SWISS FROLIC AT THEIR ANNUAL PICNIC

(Picture on back page.)

Fifteen hundred members of the United Swiss Societies of Chicago yesterday saw folk dancing, heard yodeling and choral music, and played games at their annual picnic in Deckert's Grove in Morton Grove.

Ulrich Beusch, Swiss consul in Chicago, spoke. He was introduced by David J. Zweifel, president of the United societies.

The Schweitzer Damen choir and the Schweitzer Liederkranz choir, under the direction of Joseph N. Moos, sang.

ARREST THIRD DESERTER WHO SLUGGED GUARD

The last of three army deserters who slugged a guard and escaped from Fort Sheridan last Tuesday was back in the guardhouse yesterday. He is Alfonse Rodriguez, 30 years old, a deserter from Camp Bowie, Tex., who was seized by military police Saturday night in a Harrison street rooming house.

Rodriguez and two companions, Emmett Vandenberg, 20, of Appleton, Wis., and George Tidwell, 23, of La Follette, Tenn., are awaiting court martial for the assault on the guard. At the time of their escape they were being held for overstaying leaves in Chicago, where they were arrested by city police.

Vandenberg was trapped Friday by a woman with whom he sought refuge while fleeing police. She lured him into a coal bin and locked the door until police arrived. Tidwell was seized a few hours later by military police as he left a South State street movie.

TENOR AND GIRL ARE HAILED AT MUSIC FESTIVAL

BY PHILIP MAXWELL.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

East Moline, Ill., Aug. 3.—Lanny Ross, radio and concert tenor, received an ovation here tonight after he sang at the fourth annual Mississippi Valley Music festival attended by 6,000 spectators in Soule stadium. He shared the spotlight with a 10 year old child piano prodigy, dark eyed Sonja Gamburg, 5130 Sheridan road, Chicago, who played the Mozart Concerto No. 23, First movement in A major, accompanied by the Festival orchestra, directed by Albert Peterson.

Ross was called back repeatedly, even more times than he had been at his appearance here three years ago.

Sonja's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Gamburg; her uncle, Dr. Leo Gamburg of Moline, and her teacher, Vitaly Schnee of 2052 North Orleans street, Chicago, were present to witness her triumph.

185 FELONS WIN FREEDOM THRU PAROLE IN JULY

Served Average Term of 5 Years 7 Months.

Paroles were granted to 185 inmates of Illinois prisons during July, the state division of correction announced yesterday. The average time served by the convicts was 5 years, 7 months, 13 days.

Of the paroles granted, 106 had been authorized by the old parole board prior to July 1. The rest, with the exception of one prisoner who is being transferred to county hospital, had been delayed to continue investigation of home, sponsor, and employment. The paroles were ordered after the division of supervision of paroles found these factors favorable.

Figures in Bus Strike.

Among those released were Joseph White and Edward Nacki, two street car conductors, who figured in the bus strike of 1934. They were members of a gang of sluggers hired during the strike to beat up working bus employés. In one of these assaults, James J. Kelly, a bus dispatcher, was fatally injured.

Nacki and other members of the gang were arrested at once, and White later surrendered. Both were sentenced in 1935 to manslaughter terms of 1 to 14 years. Each has served 6 years, 1 month.

Another parolee is Michael Romano, a west side hoodlum, who committed numerous robberies in 1931. After his arrest, he escaped from the Shakespeare police station and was found several days later in his sweetheart's home. He was sentenced for robbery to a term of one year to life, and has served nine years, nine months.

Parole Tony de Vito.

Tony de Vito, a member of the 42 gang, who led a band of young toughs which robbed Worlds' fair visitors in 1933, also has won his freedom. He was sentenced in 1934 to 1 to 14 years for assault with intent to murder after he and other gang members shot a druggist during a holdup attempt. He has served six years, nine months.

Another freed is Al Klewer, who, while on parole from Pontiac reformatory, committed 25 holdups on the northwest side in 1932. He has served nine years, one month of a 1 to 20 year term for robbery.

ADMITS KILLING IN 2 CENT CARD GAME QUARREL

Nick Perri.

Nick Perri, sought since the fatal shooting of Carmelo Rinaldi on April 25, was arrested yesterday in the 2000 block of Van Buren street. Capt. Walter McGloon of the Warren avenue police said that Perri made a verbal confession.

McGloon said that Perri asserted that he caught Rinaldi cheating him of two cents in a card game at 763 South State street. In the quarrel that followed, McGloon said, Perri drew a gun and shot Rinaldi.

Perri, who is 31 years old, is a street sweeper who said he formerly lived at the YMCA hotel, 826 South Wabash avenue. Rinaldi was 56, a grocer living at 3341 Congress street.

PRIVATE LEWIS WON'T BE BACK IN CAMP TODAY

Private Fred Lewis, 31 years old, of the 184th artillery regiment at Fort Custer, Mich., should be back in camp today after a week-end leave. But Private Lewis is going to be AWOL. Private Lewis, who is colored, got into a little crap game yesterday in an alley at the rear of 3224 Prairie avenue. Private Lewis won $17. Several of the players, also colored, beat Private Lewis and took back the $17, and Private Lewis was taken to County hospital where physicians said he'd have to stay several days.

DUNNE BROTHERS' CIO UNION DENIED RIGHT TO BARGAIN

Certification Refused in Furniture Walkout.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 3 [Special].—The state labor board today denied certification of a CIO union as bargaining agent for 300 truck drivers and inside workers employed by 14 Minneapolis furniture stores.

The ruling, announced by Alfred P. Blair, state labor conciliator, was a crushing defeat for the Dunne brothers—Miles and Vincent—who took 6,000 members of the General Drivers' union out of the AFL last June 9 and put them under control of the CIO.

The two Dunne brothers and a third—Grant—were indicted here July 15 with 26 other persons on charges of seditious conspiracy. A majority of those named in the indictment were members of their union.

Accused of Revolt Plot.

All the defendants in the sedition case are officers or members of the Socialist Workers' party and are accused of having advocated insubordination and overthrow of the United States government by armed revolt. The indictment came three weeks after a raid by federal agents on the Minneapolis and St. Paul headquarters.

Shortly before the Dunnes took the drivers out of the AFL those employed by the furniture stores were ordered to strike. The state labor law required a 30 day waiting period before a walkout could be made legally.

Two days after switching to the CIO the Dunnes ordered the 300 to leave their jobs. The men were out for three days and returned to work after the CIO requested an election. The furniture dealers refused to bargain with them on the ground that they did not know who represented their employés.

Strike Is Branded Illegal.

In the order denying bargaining certification, Blair said the CIO was guilty of unfair labor practices and that the strike was illegal without the 30 day waiting period. He added that the switch from the AFL to the CIO invalidated the original strike notice.

The Dunnes controled the Minneapolis drivers for mbre than 10 years during which time the union resorted to all sorts of terrorism. Two years ago William S. Brown, then president, was shot to death by an organizer. The organizer was acquitted and the Dunnes paid for his defense. Miles Dunne then became president of the union.

Last year Daniel Tobin, international president of the AFL truck drivers, started an investigation of the Minneapolis union to determine whether communists had been using it for their own ends. When the investigation was nearing a climax the Dunnes withdrew.

They told the membership the switch had been sought by A. D. Lewis, brother of John L. Lewis, former CIO czar. Observers here believe the Dunnes made the switch in the hope of getting control of the CIO in the state.

THE TRIBUNE'S PLATFORM FOR ILLINOIS AND CHICAGO

Save Our Republic

THE ENEMY WITHIN.

From time to time THE TRIBUNE'S attention is called to attacks upon it by various papers that have been bought or bought up by lend-lease or other money to have American boys sent to Europe to die for un-American objects. The same attacks are made by individuals speaking for the particular interests engaged in this war conspiracy.

In all polls the people are voting 4 to 1 against sending an American expeditionary force abroad to fight in foreign wars. THE TRIBUNE, in its position on this question, is representing and defending the welfare and interests of the American people as seen by themselves.

The people are appealing from Mr. Roosevelt of 1941 to Mr. Roosevelt of 1940. They ask the third term occupant of the White House to honor the words of the third term candidate for that office. He did not make any reservations or conditions in his pledges. He said he intended to keep out of war, that American boys were not going to be sent abroad, and that there would be no fighting unless the United States was attacked.

Altho the people are now told that they are in imminent and immediate peril, no one saying this will or can reveal where the enemy is poised to spring upon American territory or how he will get to it. The point where our defenses are to be cracked, the place where our navy is to meet the enemy, are not mentioned. For the first time Nazi Germany is engaged in a terrific and not unequal battle. Italy is only a thin shadow of military power. Japan might attack the Philippines, but why, when its objectives all lie elsewhere? The Japanese are far from being a confident nation at this time.

Nevertheless, the interests which want to use American man power in foreign wars raise the alarm of immediate danger to the American people in order to put American armies into the war abroad and to make an economic attack at home. It is hard to realize how few in number the interventionists are. They are so ruthless, so bitter, so overpowering that they give impressions of a strength far beyond anything they have. They are spending immense sums of money.

Senator Wheeler, in the senate, read a letter which Darryl F. Zanuck, the movie producer, sent to all department heads of the 20th Century-Fox Film corporation, instructing them to obtain pledges from each employé to turn his family out for the Hollywood bowl meeting, to be addressed by Wendell Willkie in support of Mr. Roosevelt's war efforts. Mr. Zanuck of the movies said it was important that the bowl be crowded to overflowing so that the ex-Republican could leave Hollywood knowing he had the motion picture industry behind him just as strongly as the bums and the subversive elements were behind Col. Lindbergh.

The motion picture industry is so much in the war conspiracy that Senator Clark of Missouri and Senator Nye have introduced a resolution directing the senate interstate commerce committee to investigate Hollywood propaganda in pictures as well as propaganda over the radio. It charges that the picture "Sergeant York" was praised in the White House as one that would do much to arouse the people.

Interventionists are spending immense sums of money. They want to dominate the American people for ulterior purposes of different kinds. They range from social snobs to bloody revolutionaries. Socialites and communists are in a common cause. All these forces, few in number but strong in resources, are throwing the life of the United States into disorder. The communists are working for revolution. The New Dealers are working for control of industry.

Grave dangers are being manufactured within the country on the pretense that there are grave dangers outside. The administration and the war party are giving the men in the army every reason to believe that they are not being trained for national defense, as intended, but are being prepared against the will of the country and against the pledges of Mr. Roosevelt for a long war in other lands.

The peril to the United States is within. The American government, the New Deal collectivists, and the special groups of interventionists are making it. This peril is a real one and it grows every day. Every citizen is beginning to feel its effects and that has been carefully calculated and intended.

MR. BRANDON HAS BEEN AWAY.

Rodney H. Brandon had been out of public office for more than eight years when Gov. Green returned him to the post of state director of public welfare last January. Recent events indicate that Mr. Brandon had been not only out of office but out of touch with public affairs as well. Seven months on the job do not seem to have brought him up to date on what happened while he was away.

Mr. Brandon wants to pull down the fence around the state training school for boys near St. Charles. The fence was built and floodlighted at a cost of $38,000, on the orders of the legislature, in response to the demands of residents of the Fox river valley, who could no longer tolerate the depredations of the young toughs who were walking away from the school almost every week.

Mr. Brandon says the fence will no longer be necessary because the incorrigible inmates at St. Charles are all going to a new walled correctional institution at Sheridan. He overestimates the capacity of the Sheridan establishment. It will contain only 50 inmates, and in the last year before St. Charles was fenced there were 76 escapes there, a number of them followed by assaults, robberies and other crimes committed by the fugitives.

Whatever Director Brandon or any one else may call it, St. Charles is a correctional institution containing a high percentage of young criminals. It will remain so as long as the social workers and Juvenile court in Chicago continue to fill it with toughs who ought to be in jail. Pulling down the fence won't reform the inmates, but it will enable them to resume their forays into the surrounding countryside.

PRICE DICTATORSHIP.

The price dictatorship bill, like most of the other economic measures recently undertaken by the administration, is calculated to fan the war spirit in this country. Thru privations, irritations, and excitements, the people are to be led to believe that they are living in a beleaguered country and can save themselves only by hurling their young men at the tanks and machine guns in Europe or Asia or both.

Mr. Roosevelt, who for eight years has been pursuing inflationary policies, now professes to be greatly alarmed at the prospect of inflation. That is the excuse for his bill. It is difficult to credit him now with sincerity. He has refused all these years to give up the power to inflate the currency which congress unwisely voted to him in his first term. More especially he has, by deliberate action, inflated farm prices and wages in his third term. At the same time this administration has encouraged panicky buying by consumers who have been frightened by official stories of impending shortages of a great variety of consumers' goods. Except for the situation so created, there is no occasion for present alarm over recent price movements, and in any event there is no need now to confer upon the President powers over industry and trade such as no President has ever been given.

Perhaps there are some who will suppose that if this bill is enacted it will solve the nation's economic difficulties for the duration. Far from it. A fundamental problem will remain and this bill will only serve to accentuate it. The danger of inflation derives from the circumstance that the administration is increasing purchasing power thru the higher payments to industrial labor and farmers and at the same time is threatening a sharp cut in the output of goods for consumers. Instead of seeking to close the gap, Mr. Roosevelt's remedy is to impose restrictions on prices, but that can only mean long queues at the stores and the certainty that some and perhaps many people will not be able to buy what they want and have the money to pay for.

After price control, then, comes rationing on the continental model. The radical New Dealers have been itching for years to impose just such restraints upon the American economy. The New Dealers and the war shouters of the administration are in alliance. Those who wish to sacrifice American lives for the British empire and those who wish to sacrifice American freedom to realize their Utopia are working in full harmony.

Their aim is to frighten and excite the people of this country to the point where they will welcome hostilities and a commissar-bossed economy as a relief from an intolerable strain. Thus far the effort has failed. Eight out of 10 people in America are steadfast against war. Because high farm prices and increased wages have not succeeded in buying support for the war, irritants are now to be employed. That is the meaning of the price dictatorship bill as well as of the new regulations governing the sale of gasoline along the eastern seaboard.

These measures do not solve any fundamental problems arising out of the defense effort. They do not build a tank or an airplane or train a soldier. They do not speed armament but they do create a false sense of danger and insecurity and thus they prepare the minds of the American people for participation in the Roosevelt war.

CONFUSING THE ISSUE.

A dispatch from a news agency printed in THE TRIBUNE contained this most extraordinary statement:

"Economic phases of the rearmament program got increased attention today as President Roosevelt created another New Deal agency, the Economic Defense board, to direct economic warfare against the axis and to formulate domestic policies."

That reveals the extent to which news agencies can go to confuse the issue. What has economic warfare against the axis to do with the procurement of American defense needs? What has it to do with the rearmament program? How can we be trying to defend our peace by seeking to provoke war?

Editorial of the Day

WHERE THE FAULT LIES.

[Detroit Free Press.]

The charge by Congressman Joe Martin, chairman of the Republican national committee, that the administration has been guilty of "unnecessary and inexcusable delays" in achieving "impregnable preparedness" for this country cannot be dismissed as a partisan attack. The same accusation has been made by Democrats who think more of country than of party.

The facts speak for themselves. Congress has granted all the power and all the money the administration has asked for. With approximately $47,000,000,000 voted for defense, American industry has been able to fill in the first year of our defense program only $7,000,000,000 of American and British orders. And less than $3,000,000,000 of this was for guns, aircraft, ammunition, and ships.

Americans are not the only ones who are disappointed at this poor showing. Their British friends, altho guarded in their criticism, are said to be even more chagrined at the slow rate aid promised from this country has been reaching them.

The fault is not American industry's. There is no reason why American production should not long since have been running as smoothly as it did during the last war, after Bernard M. Baruch was made chairman of the War Industries board and given power to act on his own responsibility. The greatest bottleneck in our defense effort is on the President's own desk. That can be cracked only by Mr. Roosevelt's doing what Woodrow Wilson did—allowing other competent men to share the task of getting this country ready for anything that may be ahead of it.

The President, who saw trouble coming, who proposed in 1937 to "quarantine" aggressor nations, who was powerful enough to obtain a third term as the one man who could steer the country safely thru the crisis, who has been voted more power and money than any other President ever was given before congress had formally declared war, alone is responsible for the present lack of effective leadership.

How to the Line, let the quips fall where they may. Reg. U.S. Pat. Office

LAND OF THE ILLINI.

Few Chicagoans seem to have heard of a publication called Illinois Quest, which is rich with regional interest. Peoria is its place of issue; W. L. Griffith is its editor; and it appears every once in a while, whenever conditions and material permit. For example, the issue marked Vol. 2, No. 1, deals with McLean county's historic places and eminent personalities.

The contents of this number include articles on the following subjects:

The life of Melville E. Stone, famous American journalist who founded the Associated Press, born in Hudson, McLean county, 1848; the Van Leer Memorial Chime tower at Normal; three McLean county men, Leonard Swett, David Davis, and Jesse W. Fell, who were close boyhood friends of Abraham Lincoln and had a strong influence on his career; the "lost speech" of Lincoln, given at Bloomington on May 29, 1856, before the Anti-Nebraska convention, which was organized by a group of abolitionist editors; and character sketches of "Private Joe" Fifer, Elbert Hubbard of the Philistine; and Richard Henry Little, former editor of the Line o' Type column.

Whenever a copy of Illinois Quest comes to the Linemaster's desk, he learns a lot about the traditions of the state in which he has spent all but a few of his years. It's a good little "book" to have in the car on week-end trips.

HOME PLACE.

I will find me a place where the woods come down to the sea,
For the sea and the trees are a part of the heart of me.
I will build me a little house at the edge of the sand.
Between the wooded slope and the waves it shall stand;
And the waves of the sea and the wind in the boughs of pine
Shall mix with me, shall forever and ever be mine.
And I shall learn to be free as the sea is free,
And to bend the desires of my heart to the will of me
As the storm in its might bends the top of the tallest tree.

The Architects of the Auditorium.

The latest bulletin of the Illinois Society of Architects gives Dankmar Adler greater credit than Louis Sullivan for the design of the Auditorium, thus:

"It is not the purpose of the Bulletin to withhold from Sullivan, who has become a legend, one iota of the credit due his architectural genius. Truth, however, demands the statement that Dankmar Adler was the man to whom this architectural commission was entrusted, and that Adler remained the dominant and commanding architect of this great structure to the end. His selection by Ferd. W. Peck and his associates was natural and logical, since Adler had been the architect of that most successful building, Central Music hall, and had rebuilt McVicker's theater, Grand Opera house, Hooley's theater and others in Chicago, the Pabst theater in Milwaukee and like structures elsewhere.

"The Auditorium building, as built, was Adler's plan; the great theater in its form, disposition of parts, sight lines, selection of materials, and acoustical treatment were all Adler's. The determination of mechanical equipment was Adler's. To Sullivan goes the credit for design of street façades, of interior decoration, and color."

How to Be a Man's Man.

Maurice Barrymore, founder of the Barrymore theatrical tradition, was described in THE TRIBUNE [summer of 1886] by a Broadway correspondent as follows:

"The author of 'Nadjesda' and 'The Don' is one of the most popular men in the profession. He's a man's man. All men seem to have a fondness for him. It is difficult to say why this is so. The best wrestler, the best diner, the latest night owl, the cleverest of our young dramatists, the most fascinating talker, the most utter Bohemian, the most continuous wine drinker and the most superb gentleman, he exerts a kind of spell in a large masculine set."

HOLIDAY INVOCATION.

Now, as the summer calls to quiet places,
Lord of our labors, guide our halting feet.
Far from the marts, we lift to Thee our faces;
Refresh our souls and in our hearts complete
Thy spirit's work, amid soft-singing trees,
Where crooning brooks reveal Thy mysteries.
Brush from our lives the dust of petty striving,
Make us forget the foolishness of care;
Let Thy fresh winds blow over us, reviving
Our better thoughts. Within our hearts prepare
Enduring paths of silence. Reverent,
May we find life indeed, ere time be spent.

Thomas Curtis Clark.

A Couple of Ink-Stained Dukes.

A cordial welcome to our midst is hereby extended to his grace, the Duke of Pravaria [July 26], who has forsaken foreign shores in order to take up residence in the land of the free! He is thus joining another titled journalist, the Duke Bakrak, who has hied himself hither from the charming village of Bacharach-on-the-Rhine, famous for its wines. It is a source of profound gratification to note that the two noblemen have seen fit to associate with us commoners of the Line, in contrast to the flock of titled émigrés who persist in cluttering up the lawn at the Krum Elbow-Hyde Park cottage. OPERATING ON THE BEATING HEART.

THE scope of surgery seems to be limitless. Prior to the discovery of anesthesia and the recognition of the importance of cleanliness, operations were performed only when extreme necessity demanded. In consequence, the surgeon became a symbol of death as, all too frequently, his efforts to save life failed.

A comparison of what is being accomplished at present in the Massachusetts General hospital with the exact date one hundred years ago would typify the advances that have occurred in the century just past. What a startling tale could be unfolded. Nowadays, no region of the body appears to be exempt. Scientists have mastered the digestive tract and its related organs and any well trained young operator can remove an appendix with the skill of the master of a generation ago.

New fields are undergoing conquest constantly. Today the lungs are handled with impunity and the brain has become an open book to the expert. From time immemorial there has been a common belief that even touching the heart would mean sudden death. During recent years, however, a fair number of cases have been reported wherein knife slashes or ice pick punctures have been managed successfully; and records have been found here and there in which a bullet has been lifted out of the thick muscle wall.

As we can understand, a gunshot wound of the pumping organ is usually followed by so much hemorrhage that little can be done. In fact, two tears are the rule—one of entrance and the other of exit. We must remember also that the apparatus cannot stop beating and it destroys itself as each contraction pours blood from the torn openings. Curiously enough, such an accident to the ventricle [the lower thicker portion] is not quite so dangerous and, in one series of injuries of this type two-thirds of the victims recovered.

It has been shown, beyond question of doubt, that the heart can be exposed and that it may be attacked much as we would the stomach, altho it is moving constantly. In fact, it must thus function, otherwise life will cease promptly.

A recent case cited by S. T. Glasser and others, describes what is probably the first instance wherein a wound of the left auricle [upper chamber] was repaired with restoration to health. The victim, an 18 year old lad, was shot in the chest with a .22 caliber bullet. When picked up, he was in shock, apparently comatose, while breathing was shallow and labored. A lesion was observed near the left breast, altho there was no bleeding to the outside. The cardiac sounds were so faint that they could scarcely be heard.

Because of the possibility of heart involvement, operation was decided upon. As soon as the sac, which encloses the "pump," was opened, a perforation was noted on the margin of the left auricle, close to the ventricle. Vital fluid was spurting from the opening. Suitable closure was accomplished.

The patient's convalescense was relatively comfortable. As a precaution against infection, sulfanilamide was administered, and generous quantities of fluid were supplied. The blood pressure soon regained its normal level. The highest temperature was about 103.4 degrees F. Complications were met as they appeared and all were managed adroitly. The young man was walking about on the 41st day subsequent to the mishap, without the slighest evidence of the ordeal he had experienced.

While no plan thus far devised can replace a worn out heart, we need not be startled some day—should the structure undergo reconditioning now considered quite outside the realm of possibility.

HIGH BLOOD PRESSURE.

W. Q. writes: Should a person with high blood pressure—who is already underweight—follow a reducing plan?

REPLY.

Not advised. Nature is doing her best to help you by refusing to pile on fat. More rest and freedom from worry will decrease nervous tension. The pressure level should then drop.

THIRD STROKE.

N. U. writes: Does the third stroke always prove fatal?

REPLY.

No—nor the fourth or fifth, if small vessels are involved. The question of recovery depends upon the size and location of the broken blood conduits.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

A SEEING EYE FOR UNCLE SAM.

Chicago, July 30.—On Lake street out Austin way I recently witnessed a scene the memory of which recurs with the passing of time. As I approached the curb of an intersecting street I saw a little group of people watching the actions of a blind man and his Seeing Eye dog. The man stood waiting for instructions from his canine guide as the latter studied the problem confronting them.

Just off the curb, on the near side of the street, stood a car, motor idling, awaiting the right moment to make the crossing; poised about five feet or so behind the first machine stood another machine, also ready to move forward. The dog alertly started off with his master, not between the two cars, as I expected him to do, but around and in back of the second machine, and then across the street to safety. The eyes of the little group of spectators glowed with admiration at this display of canine intelligence. It was an inspiration to all who witnessed it, I am sure.

Ever since then I have wished that I might get hold of Aladdin's lamp for just a moment or two. Given that marvelous talisman to conjure with, I should promptly order the slave of the lamp to go fetch a super Seeing Eye dog for our dearly beloved, bunk blinded, fumbling, stumbling, bemused old Uncle Samuel—to lead him out of the fog and on to the way that he should go!

EBEN E. THATCH.

ROYALTY WOULD SURVIVE.

Chicago, July 31.—Having "panned" you rather heavily for the "abysmal ignorance" in most of your previous editorial comments on federal union, may we now congratulate you on showing, in your editorial, "Union How Now?" at least the beginning of intelligent criticism of the "union now" proposal.

If Britain were to be admitted into the American union of states as the 49th state—as has been vaguely mentioned somewhere, but not by federal unionists—then it would be necessary, as things stand now, for her to discontinue her royalty. Certainly you are correct in saying that.

But federal union does not propose that Britain become a "49th state." Federal union would leave the national governments of its member nations in their present forms, or in any form the peoples of those individual nations should choose, provided only they guaranteed the union bill of rights to their citizens. "Union now" is not the extension of the American Union to take in Britain or any other nation. Rather, it is the proposal that the nations of the world now do, on an international scale, what the 13 American states did on an interstate scale in 1789.

FRANKLIN D. LOEHR,
Executive Secretary, Chicago Council for Federal Union.

IT'S NOT A DREAM.

Chicago, July 31.—I see by the news that a member of royalty has just purchased an estate in the east for $252,000.

We are asked to help the peoples of the poor, invaded countries of Europe.

Am I dreaming or what is it all about?

GEO. DE BEER.

LONG TRAINING FOR ARMY.

Chicago, July 31.—In the controversy about prolonging the draftees' term of service one vitally important element has been overlooked—important for the success of our defense and at the same time for the physical safety of the soldiers themselves.

Men cannot "spring to arms over night" as Bryan said. Even in the 1776 revolution, pitchforks were not efficient weapons. It takes years of training in the science and art of war to make good warriors and it also requires superior physical powers, both of muscles and nerves.

These are not developed in a few months, as we bitterly learned in our last war. Courage alone is not enough; fighting machines are not enough. Strong, well trained men are essential, and our soldiers themselves should demand sufficient training to safeguard their lives during combat.

Our government must prepare our men for the grim and grueling profession of war.

We are eight years late already. When Hitler came to power in 1934, the thinking men knew that Hitlerism meant war, but the guardians of our civilization were busy at other things. It is very late but not too late.

Let us take the Germans' book of war [not a leaf] and their recent experience, and better the instructions. We have the men, we have the brains, and we have the money too. J. B. DE LEE.

DEDICATING THE ALUMINUM.

Chicago City, Minn., July 31.—In a letter from my brother in Clinton, Ia., this morning was the following:

"We are having an aluminum drive on Wednesday. I got together a few old pans and things for the Boy Scouts to pick up. Of course I had to put a few signs on them:

To Uncle Joe Stalin—Merry Christmas from Sister Perkins.
To F. D. R.—Compliments of Senator Wheeler.
To Gen. Lear—Yoo Hoo!
For Mayor La Guardia—Let us know when the bombs start dropping on New York.

H. S. T.

THE MYSTERY NOW CLEAR.

Chicago, July 31.—There have been so many conflicting stories coming from Moscow and Berlin that I am much confused. However, I think I have arrived at a solution of the whole problem.

I figure it this way, that an entire regiment of Russians which was completely annihilated a month ago is now inflicting terrific punishment upon 30 thousand Nazi soldiers who haven't as yet arrived in Russia. DICK.

WEIGHS ONLY 138 NOW.

Chicago, July 31.—In reply to Mrs. E. J. McM.'s letter on fat women: Did she ever try to reduce? My own experience proves we can normalize our figures by proper physical culture exercises performed regularly. I have reduced and now tip the scales at 138 pounds and have never gone on a "diet," nor have I taken any so-called reducing medicines. I did use discretion about my diet, such as cutting down on pastry, candy, and potatoes, and not drinking beer. Since getting my weight down to normal, I still exercise religiously to keep it. I also have had four children, as well as years of illness, of which I now am free.

Taking care of one's lungs, which includes one's heart, is of first importance. Deep breathing of pure air, not nicotine, is what women need. RENE MASSAIS.

SHOULD ENTER THE EMPIRE.

New York, July 31.—Mr. Hull, whose letter appeared today in your columns, has the wrong idea about the British empire entering the United States. The United States should enter the British empire. All that is necessary is to repeal the declaration of independence and for the new subjects to swear allegiance to the king.

We then would send the isolationists to London for trial.

CLEANING CHARGES.

Chicago, July 26.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I had a slack suit cleaned. When it was returned—because it had been washed instead of dry cleaned—the trousers had shrunk so much they could not be worn. Washing was entirely unnecessary.

1. Can I hold the cleaner responsible for ruining a pair of $12 slacks?

2. What action can I take to force the cleaner to make good the slacks he ruined? J. K.

1. Theoretically yes, but as a practical matter the amount is not large enough to make court proceedings worth while.

2. We see no way to force matters without a law suit.

Our correspondence indicates that a large proportion of cleaners make an extra charge for "insurance" but in fact give their customers no increased protection in return.

While the agreement to insure is enforceable in the sense that damages are recoverable for its breach, the damages are not ordinarily large enough to make court proceedings worth while. A reliable cleaner will make good without insurance and without a law suit. An unreliable one will not, even if he agrees to insure. Hence, we advise you not to pay extra for such insurance.

3 WAYS TO GET A $100 LOAN

How to borrow cash quickly and simply and repay in monthly installments which fit your own income

CAN YOU make good use of $100? Investigate our loan plans today. Household Finance offers three simple ways for you to borrow up to $300. Your loan will be made the way which best suits your own situation.

1. Signature loans. No security needed. These loans are made, under proper conditions, to both single persons and married couples.

2. Auto loans. A loan on your car may best fit your needs.

3. Furniture loans. Here character and regular income are far more important than the value of your security. Many borrowers use this plan.

No endorsers needed

Whichever way you borrow, it is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get the loan you need simply, privately and speedily.

You may repay your loan in convenient monthly installments as shown in the table. Monthly installments of $9.77 each, for instance, will repay a $100 loan in full in twelve months. Or as little as $6.43 a month for twenty months will also repay a $100 loan.

Borrow for less

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2¼% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100, and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge substantially more than this. Some finance companies do charge a higher rate. It's good business to compare rates before you borrow.

If you need money, here's what to do. Come to Household. Or just phone and say you need a loan. We're here to serve you. Phone or visit us today without obligation.

YOUNG COUPLE ON MOTORCYCLE KILLED IN CRASH

Machine Collides with an Automobile.

A young woman and man were killed yesterday when their motorcycle collided with an automobile at Roosevelt road and Central avenue. DRIVER IS SEIZED; CROWD GATHERS AND IS DISPERSED

After two police squads had pursued and captured Andrew Koldziejski, 21 years old, 4707 South Bishop street, last night, they were forced to turn in a riot call because of the menacing attitude of 300 spectators.

The trouble started, police said, when Koldziejski drove his car against the parked automobile of Charles S. Patula, 3847 West 47th street, at 51st street and Ashland avenue. He drove away and Patula's friends pursued him.

Policemen Dan Keating, Henry Michalski, and Ralph Simmons of the New City station and Policemen Frank Styx and Joseph Helmoski of the stolen auto detail joined. For 20 minutes the squads kept after Koldziejski. He smashed into a pole at 38th street and Union avenue and the policemen grabbed him. He resisted. A crowd gathered and threatened the policemen. The latter were in civilian attire and presumably the crowd did not know they were policemen. A riot call brought three more squads and an end to Koldziejski's resistance and the threats.

Style advice to women on

Now on the job getting the photo story of the new Fall fashions is the Tribune Color Photo studio. Shown above are the studio chief and his assistant posing models for style presentations to appear in early issues of the Tribune.

The nation's expert buyers of women's clothing, now attending the advance showings and trade conventions in Chicago, set an example in shopping technique which can help you get full style and value from the money you spend on your Fall wardrobe.

CHICAGO is host this week to hundreds of the most expert buyers of women's clothing in the nation. These are the representatives of stores thruout the country who have come to Chicago to buy fall and winter stocks of women's wearing apparel.

With millions of dollars to invest, these style-wise men and women come to the big marketplace where the creations of hundreds of designers and manufacturers are available in lavish display—where they can have their choice of a wide selection of the coming season's most attractive fashions.

When you shop for your fall wardrobe, it will pay you to do as these expert buyers do—choose from the big market which offers the widest selection.

You do so when you make the Tribune your shopping guide. Chicago's most comprehensive fashion collections are yours to select from when you follow the Tribune, which prints more women's apparel advertising than any two other Chicago newspapers combined. During the past twelve months Chicago retailers placed in the Tribune practically as much women's apparel linage as they placed in all other Chicago newspapers combined.

They placed in the Tribune 173% more women's apparel linage than they placed in any other Chicago newspaper—and 36% more than they placed in any two other Chicago newspapers combined.

Chicago stores make the Tribune their primary medium because this newspaper enables them to extend helpful shopping service to so many more people. To make sure you overlook no worthwhile fashion or value, to keep informed of the exciting new fall apparel arrivals and special sellings, to save time and money when you shop for clothes, it will pay you to make the Tribune your shopping guide.

Every day of the week, Rea Seeger, Chicago fashions editor, keeps you informed of the exciting new arrivals in Chicago stores. Her style sense and the way she expresses it have won for her a huge following of Chicago women.

Accompanying Rea Seeger on her fashion tours is Margot, who illustrates the modes about which Miss Seeger writes. Her style-right sketches enable you to visualize the line and drape of smart new fashions as soon as they arrive.

To report the news along other fashion fronts, Bettina Bedwell, Tribune fashions correspondent, is constantly on the go, gathering the facts which make her Sunday column "must" reading for Chicago women.

These stores make the Tribune your year 'round Fashion Show!

49% of all women's apparel advertising placed by department stores and specialty shops in Chicago newspapers during the twelve month period ended June 30, 1941, was placed in the Chicago Tribune. This was 173% more than they placed in any other Chicago newspaper.

49% 173%

The Tribune's interest in women's fashions does not stop with reporting the news. Dramatic evidence of the positive action which the Tribune takes to advance American design was the 1940 American Fashions competition in which the Tribune awarded $5,000.00 in prizes for the best creations by American designers. Again this year a similar competition is developing new designs which will be displayed in full color in the Sunday Tribune Roto Picture section.

When you make the Tribune your fashion guide, you follow the style medium which the trade itself watches for information on trends in the Chicago market. Because the fashions which click in Chicago set the pace in other cities and towns, manufacturers and retailers thruout the country regularly read the Tribune.

College Shops Open with New Smart Styles

BY REA SEEGER.

Those All-American institutions, the college shops, swing open their doors officially this week all over town. They are exciting strongholds for the co-eds, but somewhat bewildering for the older shoppers because of the feverish chatter and dither when literally hundreds of girls dash around, assembling college wardrobes. Picked counselors, with anywhere from a year to three years of college back of them, staff these shops within the stores. They offer magnanimously their invaluable experience of what they packed that shouldn't have been packed and what they overlooked that they should have had.

If you are a hesitant freshman to be or a parent faced with the dilemma, quandary, or whatever you label your particular case of jitters, these college shops are sanctuaries indeed. In them on the racks, in the cases, in apparently never ending supplies, are the clothes of the future, college fashions accepted, approved, and launched by the college girls themselves.

There are selected wardrobes from underlayers to lush dance and party dresses. There are dozens of new ideas in jackets, hats, robes, blouses, skirts, dresses, and suits. Every imaginable new idea in coats is featured from the blazing, gaudy plaids and checks to the swankiest of corduroys. Jackets and skirts, separable units with which to juggle color contrasts or harmony, offer a fascinating array for the most exacting young shopper.

This year, at least if the present pre-views are authoritative proof, your college girl has turned over a new leaf . . . the sloppy clothes of former years are in the discard. There is definite flair for smartness, for that old-fashioned neatness and smooth grooming. Thank some enlightened leader for such brilliant strategy.

There will be sweaters but they'll fit less casually and there will be no more deliberate attempts to wear cardigans and sweaters two to three sizes too large. White, sparkling white, dickies and collar and cuff sets have been revived, as have the good looking two piece dresses of plaited skirt and long torso blouse.

Jersey, fine soft wool, impeccably tailored tweeds, fitted top coats, daytime dresses smartly cut, date and teatime dresses of sophisticated black and dark shades, blouses and countless separate skirts of snappy cut and design round out the superlative collections to launch the college girl and co-ed toward a successful and important first impression.

In other words, 1941 college collections stress individuality, smooth grooming, and vivid youthful charm and color . . . they're quite the best we've ever sleuthed.

Looking at Hollywood
By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 3—Sunday—A morning's typing, and in the afternoon to the Dean Jaggers', who may be saying farewell for a while. Altho 20th-Fox has announced Jagger for "Sioux City" and another picture, he is eager to return to New York and do some play-acting for a change. . . . Among those present are Edith Barrett and her husband, Vincent Price. Miss Barrett has just completed her first movie rôle—that of one of Ida Lupino's wacky sisters in "Ladies in Retirement." . . . Price, best remembered on Broadway as the prince consort in "Victoria Regina," has become an art collector—but not on the scale of that great, rich art lover, Edward G. Robinson. Vincent collects American primitives. "I drive around the country," he says, "and something tells me to stop. So I stop in some little town and go into a second hand furniture store and prowl around the pictures. I've had fine luck, too. Best buy I ever made was a painting of an early railroad train. I got it for a quarter and cleaned it up. Not long ago I was offered $4,000 for it."

Jack Benny Escorts Kay Francis at Hollywood premiere of "Charley's Aunt."

Jane Withers with Buddy Pepper at "Charley's Aunt"

Monday—To Universal, to watch Abbott and Costello do a bit for "Ride 'Em, Cowboy," and am lucky to arrive during the shooting of the apple number. It's one of the old Abbott-Costello routines in which Lou, resting up in a bughouse, is baffled by an Indian lass who is picking imaginary apples. Lou says she picks 'em wrong. When he was a boy he used to shake the tree—like this. Kerblam, a crate of real apples is dumped on his noggin. But Abbott is on the sidelines giving cues. Because it's an old number the boys know perfectly. Director Arthur Lubin has stepped aside to let Bud handle the timing. . . . A prop man comes up; says he can't make the rubber pad fit inside Lou's hat. "Leave it out," says Bud. "Hey," wails Lou, "thassa lot of apples up there." "Be a man," snarls Bud, "and take it." Abbott is just as tough on Costello offstage, apparently, as he is on. So Lou takes it, for three takes.

Tuesday—The Tuesday lunch shifts from Chasen's to the Sky room at Saks, Dave having taken the place over from Perino. . . . To Metro, to watch Johnny Weissmuller battle some native dugouts in the new "Tarzan" picture. It's always a pleasure to watch Johnny swim. He's having fun, too, dodging spears under water and upsetting boatloads of Central avenue colored folk. . . . On to the "Panama Hattie" stage for a moment, where the lovely Carmen Morales is rehearsing a dance number she'll do with Rags Ragland. . . . In the evening to the Padre vineyard at Cucamonga, where United Artists is having a preview of "New Wine." It's a magnificent party, with champagne going in case lots, and I'm all the sorrier that I don't like the picture. Altho Ilona Massey is lovely and sings beautifully, and Hubby Alan Curtis is all right as Franz Schubert, the thing doesn't jell under the direction of one Reinhold Schunzel. It seems so old-fashioned, so unsmooth in cutting, that I suggest its title be "Schubert's Unfinished Great Train Robbery." . . . There is, however, one superb scene, in which Albert Basserman, as Beethoven, scans the score of young Schubert's unfinished symphony, and as he reads it you hear it splendidly played.

Wednesday—A deal of desk work, and in the late afternoon to Santa Barbara for the première of David O. Selznick's Lobero theater. Ingrid Bergman has the title rôle of "Anna Christie." Main flaw in the production, I think, is the choice of Damian O'Flynn for the excessively male rôle of Matt.

Thursday—It being our wedding anniversary, we loaf in Santa Barbara, lunching at the harbor with Al Weingand. We are at the end of a long pier, behind glareproof glass, and below us cavort a trio of waterskiers. Weingand tells us that when he planned this novel kind of floor show he called up the ski club [water skiing was invented in Santa Barbara] and asked how much the members would charge for a noonday show. "Nothing," they replied. "You just provide the speedboat." So, each day, a new bunch of youngsters ski, skid, spill, and take the big jump. . . . On the way home we drop off at Ronald Colman's San Ysidro ranch, a favorite spot for Hollywood honeymooners who actually want peace and quiet. Laurence Olivier and Vivien Leigh were married there. . . . Back to Hollywood just in time for the première of Jack Benny's "Charley's Aunt," which is a fine long laugh and the best comedy I've seen in months.

Friday—To Lake Sherwood, Hollywood's favorite location spot, where three pictures are being made—Korda's "Jungle Book," Doug Fairbanks' "The Corsican Brothers," and Darryl Zanuck's "Swamp Water."

Saturday—To pay for a lively week of touring around, a day sniffing the grindstone.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1941: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Apples and plums are two fruits which are tart enough and contain sufficient pectin to make good jellies with minimum chances of failure.

Tart apples are the kind to choose. Crabapples make wonderful jelly. Tart plums, not sweet ones, are the jellymakers. Damsons are especially prized because of the gorgeous color they give to jams and jellies.

APPLE AND PLUM JELLY.

Use equal parts of the prepared fruits, or a slightly larger proportion of apples.

To prepare the apples [tart apples or crabapples], wash and quarter them. Do not peel or core. Wash and quarter or halve the plums and combine the two fruits. Add enough water to cover and boil together until both fruits are soft. Mash and turn into a jelly bag to drip. Let the juice drip naturally, do not squeeze the bag or you'll get cloudy jelly.

Measure the juice and bring it to a boil. Add an equal amount of sugar, 1 cup for every cup of juice, and boil rapidly until the sirup falls in thick drops from the edge of a spoon. The jelly is done as soon as the drops of sirup run together and drop reluctantly from the spoon. Remove from heat at once. Skim and pour into clean, hot glasses. Seal at once with melted paraffin. Store in a cool, dry, dark place.

JAM FROM THE FRUIT PULP.

Do not waste the fruit pulp in the jelly bag. Put it thru a sieve, measure it, and add ¾ cup of sugar for each cup of pulp. Boil together until thick, fill clean, hot jars, and seal. Remember that jam thickens more upon cooling, so don't cook the mixture until stiff.

If you want to make an apple jelly that guests will exclaim about, try this recipe which calls for port wine.

APPLE AND PORT WINE JELLY
1½ cups apple juice
1½ cups sugar
½ cup domestic port wine

Prepare apple juice the night before cooking the jelly. Cut tart apples in pieces, cover with water, and cook until soft. Drain in jelly bag overnight. Measure apple juice in a large kettle, bring to a boil, add sugar and boil 1 minute. Add wine. Boil rapidly until jelly "sheets" from the edge of a spoon. Pour into clean, hot jars and seal with paraffin.

An approximate temperature for the jellying point is 221 degrees at sea level. But a thermometer test for jelly, unlike a thermometer test for meats and candies, is not absolutely accurate. So if you use a candy thermometer, be guided also by the "sheeting off" test. This is the point at which heavy drops of sirup run together at the edge of a spoon and fall in one blob or sheet.

Thru the LOOKING GLASS

The woman who is frankly mature, with no notions at all of looking like a subdeb, seems to us neglected by the fashion and beauty experts. There are fashions for the women and fashions for the girls, and it's folly for the one group blindly to follow those for the other—but such seems to be an American weakness.

A great many "young" whims just won't do for the woman. Saddle shoes, for instance, and baggy slacks, and dirndl dresses. Youngsters can get away with such things extremely well, while the frankly mature woman who affects them just can't look well dressed. Even tho she's slim as she should be for her years and height, she hasn't the verve that is such an invaluable if somewhat intangible quality that makes for harmony between dress and its wearer.

Then, there is the matter of hair arrangement. The long bob, with shining hair that plays over the shoulders, is a fashion that should be reserved for the very young. The older face needs a different kind of a frame. What looks enchantingly youthful on the schoolgirl is somehow just untidy on the woman. Her hair, nine times out of 10, will be a more suitable and flattering frame for her face when it is more short than long and when its arrangement is more sleek than disordered.

Makeup, too, is something the mature woman should study. She needs it, much more than the kids do. There is something artless and attractive about the very young face that has the scrubbed look, touched up, perhaps, with nothing more than lipstick. But the older woman needs the softening of a foundation and powder that flatter skin texture.

Groucho, Chico, and Harpo Marx play at being sleuths in their latest film, "The Big Store."

If you've ever seen the Marx Brothers you know how funny they are—if you haven't you're missing something, and you'd certainly better take advantage of this chance to enjoy them.

One hundred boys and girls will see this film at the Roosevelt theater on Aug. 14, and if you'd like to be my guest at this party, all you have to do is convince me of that fact, and maybe you'll see your name listed with the winners in next Sunday's TRIBUNE.

Just sit down and write a letter to me, telling why you think you'd enjoy this party.

You must remember to give me your full name, address, and age in your letter because if you forget one of these items—out you go! Each child must write for his or her own invitation—and you have only until Thursday to get your letters in. So don't wait too long to send it to Sally Joy Brown, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

BY CECIL SMITH.

"The Big Store" is said to be the last picture the Marx Brothers will make together, so you'd better hasten down to see it. The three comedians are still as hopelessly unable to come to grips with reality as ever, and you will probably want to plant them firmly in your memory before the team breaks up forever.

This time the Marxes are working as detectives in a department store, with Groucho, alias Wolf J. Flywheel, doing most of the talking, and Harpo and Chico providing constant, irrational acting. There are killers loose in the store, we learn, and they are out to get Tony Martin because honest Tony, who is half owner of the store, stands in the way of the dark and dishonest plans of Douglass Dumbrille, the crafty store manager.

Groucho is usually so busy talking that he has only the dimmest idea of what is going on around him. But it is a foregone conclusion that Harpo and Chico will surround the criminals at the proper moment, and in the meantime, Groucho's disregard for all the usual logical rules of conversation is often so funny as to border on the sublime.

The setting of a large department store provides a miraculous supply of elevators, chutes, roller skates, bicycles, beds, rugs, and huge piles of boxes, and the Marxes know how to make the maximum use of them all.

Harpo revels in an unexpected 18th century costume scene, in which he dons the satins of Versailles and plays the harp, against a background of mirrors which reproduce strange images indeed. Tony Martin sings a couple of undistinguished songs in his familiar, easy manner. His contributions are somewhat eclipsed by the one appearance of Virginia O'Brien whose brilliant deadpan performance of "Lullaby, Baby" in swing explains why she won success on the stage in "Meet the People" and "Keep Off the Grass."

"The Big Store" is not the best picture the Marx Brothers ever made, but it is funny enough to arouse regret that one of the screen's best comic teams is about to disband.

Szell's Concerts at Ravinia Evoke Critic's Superlatives

BY EDWARD BARRY.

With concerts at Ravinia park Saturday night and yesterday afternoon, the Hungarian conductor, George Szell, brought to a close what was, for this listener at least, the most exhilarating week in the whole six year history of the Ravinia festival.

So sound is Szell's sense of the capabilities of an orchestra and so amazing his ability to mesmerize musicians into doing his exact bidding that the Chicago Symphony orchestra became almost his own voice. It externalized his ideas with an almost faultless precision and spoke for him with a shattering eloquence.

The high point of the week-end was probably yesterday's performance of Haydn's Symphony No. 88, in G. The exquisite rightness and exactness with which the composer's laughing melodies were presented and juxtaposed showed how clear had been the conductor's thought and how just his sense of style.

In the second movement Szell seemed to share the composer's own childish wonder at the loveliness of his little tune, riveting the audience's attention on it anew each time a fresh variation came along. The conductor's immense virility was apparent in the sweep of the minuet, yet he never mistook brutality for strength. The movement was almost as full of delicate detail as the wonderful closing rondo.

Szell uses his enormous knowledge to free music rather than to constrict it. He never holds up a new found effect and asks you to admire it, nor does he arrest the flow of the music to prove that such and such a passage is, indeed, a contrast between wind and string sonorities. All this business is submerged in the duty of getting music before you as naturally and persuasively as possible. Yesterday's Brahms [the first symphony] was a good example of this adult and realistic music making.

The week-end's other major works were Tschaikowsky's Fifth Symphony and Szell's orchestral version of the Smetana String quartet, "From My Life." The latter destroys the intimacy and fragility and much of the personal quality of the original, but it enriches the orchestral répertoire with a badly needed addition to Smetana's tiny list of first rate, readily available works. The overtures were Berlioz' "Roman Carnival" [Saturday] and Weber's "Oberon" [Sunday].

Many thanks to the Ravinia festival for introducing to us this year a man who ranks with the tiny handful of genuinely great interpretative musicians. May we have two full weeks of him next summer.

Martial Spirit Animates News of Engagements

BY JUDITH CASS.

An announcement made this week-end in the east by Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Sheffield Halsey is doubly interesting to Chicagoans. At their home in Irvington-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Halsey announced the engagement of their daughter, Anne, to Lieut. Charles S. Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd M. Roberts of Winnetka.

Miss Halsey is no stranger to the north shore, as she visited several times in Winnetka. She was a bridesmaid to Mrs. John S. Clifford [Mary Warner] and for Mrs. Albert F. Winston [Elizabeth Buchen].

After her graduation from Pine Manor, Miss Halsey attended Barnard college, where she received her degree this June. Mr. Roberts prepared for Princeton at Lake Forest academy. Following his graduation with honors from the Princton engineering school, he attended the Harvard School of Business Administration for a year. Last February he enlisted in the officers' marine school. He is stationed at Quantico, Va.

Miss Harriet H. Sturgis and E. H. Bennett Jr. to Wed.

An engagement which links the names of two young Lake Foresters is that of Miss Harriet Hammond Sturgis to Edward H. Bennett Jr. On the eve of his departure for San Francisco to begin active duty with the navy, Mrs. Hammond Sturgis announced her daughter's engagement to young Bennett, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett of Bagatelle, Lake Forest.

Miss Sturgis attended the Shipley school and made her debut last September at a tea in Lake Forest. Her fiancé is a Harvard graduate, class of 1938. He was graduated in March from the midshipmen's school and plans for the wedding depend on the post to which he is assigned.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Newton Burnham of Winnetka have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ann Hibbard, to Henry Lee Smith, son of Mrs. Celeste Brown Smith and Harry Lee Smith of San Gabriel, Cal. The engagement was made known at a dinner party in Mrs. Smith's home in California, where Miss Burnham recently visited for a month.

Miss Burnham attended Wellesley college for two years, studying last year at the Chicago Art institute, to which she plans to return in the autumn. Her fiancé attended Stanford university and at present is stationed in Hawaii with the United States navy.

Returning to Winnetka with Miss Burnham was her cousin, Miss Mary Elizabeth Willets of Australia and Hollywood, Cal., who will remain on the north shore for the winter. Mrs. Burnham, whose professional name is Anita Willets Burnham, is a widely known travel lecturer and author.

Cruise to Replace Debut Dance for Miss Alexander.

A cruise to Havana on Mr. and Mrs. William H. Roberts Jr.'s yacht will help to make up for the debut dance Miss Marjorie Alexander has given up so that she could use the money to send an ambulance to England for civilian war relief work. Miss Alexander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Alexander, came from England and have many relatives there. They and their daughter will leave for Hialeah, Fla., on Aug. 11

PONY THOMAS OF THE OZARKS.

That's what comes of sendin' boys off to college agreed the graybeards who lounged around the courthouse in the square at West Plains [pop. 5,000], Mo. Like as not, they prophesied gloomily, them young fellers'll be wantin' to put up some o' them newfangled, hifalutin' tennis thingamajigs yon' side o' the blacksmith shop, 'stead o' pitchin' horseshoes. Mothers went around shaking their heads, and warning Etty Belle, Hattie Louise, and Effie May not to be seen around with any o' them young college squirts, 'specially the ringleaders, Chick Hogan, Bus Barrett, or Tubby Williams, effen they didn't want their hides tanned. What, they asked one another, is this world a-comin' to, when boys f'rgit their decent bringin'-up and GAMBLE until 4 o'clock in the morning. Huge sums, like seven or eight dollars, had been lost that Saturday night, said the grapevine. And the town rocked on its heels.

* *

The only one who said nothing at all was Pony Thomas. Pony, with all the loyalty of his race for the white folks who employed him, went about his jobs of janiting at Doc Gum's drug store and the Knights of Pythias hall, taking care of the lawn at Mayor Jim Harlin's and hoeing gardens, as he had been doing for nearly half a century. His woolly head seemed to grow a shade whiter, and his wizened black face grew a trifle more wrinkled during those trying days. He shook his head and stuck to his broom, pretending deafness, when any one asked if he knew who had taken part in that gambling orgy.

Pony was visibly affected, however, when he heard about Sister Evelina Appleby's prayer at the Wednesday prayer meeting. The boys at the drug store told how they had been lurking outside the church, waiting to see their best girls home, and had heard Sister Appleby intoning loudly enough to shake the chimney from the kerosene lamp:

"O, God, swoop down on this wicked city and rid hit of all hits VICE and CRIME! Hit's a big job, God, but You can do hit!"

Pony was heard to mumble that the white folks wa'n't playin' fair, to bring God into this li'l fracas them boys had got into. And Pony's misery was complete when Prosecutor Will H. D. Green sent for him. His dwarfish figure was more stooped than ever as he stood before the attorney with his battered old hat clutched in trembling black hands.

"Nobody's going to hurt you, Pony," said Attorney Green gently. "But around town folks are saying those young men who gambled away their pas' money should be bound over to the grand jury for trial. Now, I know those boys wouldn't play cards all night without some sandwiches and coffee. I know they would order them up from Doc Gum's drug store, and you'd be the one to deliver them! TELL ME, HOW MANY TRIPS DID YOU MAKE?"

Pony moaned miserably.

"Fo'h," he whispered.

"Good!" said Attorney Green. "NOW TELL ME THE NAMES OF THOSE YOUNG FELLOWS!"

"Fo'h de Lawd, Mistah Will, Ah don' know," said Pony.

"Do you mean to stand there, Pony Thomas," thundered the attorney, "and tell me that you don't know the name of every man, woman, and child in this town?"

"Ah knows 'em when they's li'l shavers," said the trembling Pony. "But I swears to you, Mistah Will, they grows so fast they grows clean out o' mah sight!"

* *

Thus the law was thwarted, and as the years passed the gambling incident was forgotten. Pony kept on tending furnaces and mowing lawns, until one day, just about the time Prosecutor Green became Judge Green, Pony laid down the axe with which he had been chopping wood for Miz Plume Pullen's cook stove and breathed his last.

Recently Tubby Williams, now a prominent advertising man in Chicago, was back home in Missouri for a visit. On the West Plains square he was shaking hands and pounding backs with two of his boyhood friends, Bus Barrett, now city commissioner of streets for West Plains, and Chick Hogan, city engineer, when Judge Green passed by. He, too, stopped to greet Tubby.

"Come along, Judge," said Bus cordially. "We're just going to show Tubby how West Plains has grown!"

The four drove about the little town, proudly noting new houses here and there, and farther out, as the climax of the tour, the city officials pointed out a brand new street. Tubby admired its sidewalks and street lights. Then he saw its name on brightly painted new street signs:

"PONY THOMAS AVENUE"

Bus, Tubby, and Chick looked at one another and grinned broadly. The judge chuckled knowingly. And probably up yonder a halo on a woolly thatch was set at a cockier angle. Pony's li'l shavers hadn't forgotten.

Try Camping Technique for Child at Home

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.

In spite of the fact that camps are tending to allow more time than formerly for the exercise of children's individual desires and talents, a regular schedule is the basis of each camp day.

So, if you've been doing a lot of wishful thinking about camp for your boys and girls, and also being wistful about it because the family budget forbids it, why not be resourceful and stimulate camp life at home? If you do so, one of the first things you'll plan will be to imitate the regularity of camp life.

This means that the children will get up at a certain time, have meals at a certain time, rest during the definite rest periods, and have quiet periods also in which they read or play "quiet games." They will have regular duties, both personal ones, such as putting their own rooms in order and making their beds, and a few family or community duties.

In general, there are several ways you may go about having camp at home, but it works out best if you can collect a group of children somewhat near each other in age, and get the really interested coöperation of several of their mothers.

Hikes, camp fire councils, swimming, picnics, besides the regular schedule we've mentioned, make up a camp day. Camp clothing will help to complete the picture.

But many of the more progressive camps also are providing outlets for esthetic or craft interests and activity: Rhythmic or folk dancing, music, dramatics, bench work, weaving, sculping, wood carving, painting, and drawing. Practically any of these activities could be carried out in your amateur camps.

VERDICT

The jury filed back into their places, their verdict of guilty to be read on their faces before it passed the foreman's lips. They found Hugo guilty of murder in the second degree as there was no evidence of premeditation, and recommended imprisonment for life.

Kathleen looked at Hugo, not caring who saw the message of love and faith in her eyes for him, but he did not look at her while the foreman spoke, nor afterward when he was led away.

George took Kathleen to the private sitting room she had engaged at the Biltmore and left her there, returning an hour later.

"At least I'm some use. I've got a concession for you. They're going to allow you to talk to him for a few minutes—your last chance before he goes to the penitentiary."

Kathleen whitened under this blow. "You mean they're going to take him away from Los Angeles?"

"Naturally." George was actually impatient with her. "You're lucky this is a state in which the jury rarely recommends capital punishment. And you don't know how lucky you are that I saved you from the charge of hiding a fugitive."

"I do know." She had often heard him express his views on the wastefulness of supporting murderers at the taxpayers' expense, and he would make no exception of Hugo. But his lack of sympathy acted as a tonic to her.

"Can I go to him now?" she asked with steady composure.

"I came to take you. But I must warn you he expressed a wish not to see anybody." His authority and competence were still acting. "Come. I've arranged to take you out thru the back of the hotel."

A guard brought Hugo to see her in a bleak, bare room. There was a resigned somberness in his bearing, but he did not appear beaten or unduly depressed.

"It was kind of you to come and say good-by to me, Kathleen."

Kathleen ignored the presence of the guard. The opportunity was too precious to waste.

"But it isn't good-by, Hugo. What do you take me for? A fairweather friend? I love you. I'll be loyal all my life."

His eyes shone as if tears moistened them.

"O, Kittens, don't. You've got to call this a day. Live your own life and be happy."

"You are my life, Hugo. I'm going to get you free some way. You don't belong in prison. You didn't do it."

This broke thru his strange reserve and he spoke with some of his old vehemence.

"You mustn't interfere. Positively, Kathleen, I forbid it."

"But, Hugo, I don't understand you."

"That can't be helped now. Don't try. Your job is to put this behind you and forget me."

"While you rot in prison?"

"I won't rot. I'm not the type. And I'm not going to break under this misfortune. If this be fate, so be it. Bars or none, I have my own mental kingdom."

Again she felt the force and wilfulness of his personality—and the virile soundness of it. There would be no sense in the world anywhere if such as Hugo could do murder.

She spoke in a lowered voice so that the guard should not hear.

"You know who did it. Why are you shielding him?"

He looked straight in her eyes. "That's what you say. I didn't say so."

"You know something, Hugo. Something that would help me to help you."

"I don't want you to help me."

"You're crazy, Hugo." Her voice entreated—"please—please tell it to me."

"Sorry, dear. The answer will always be no."

"O, Hugo, why do you make things so difficult?"

"If I had anything I care to tell, I would have told it in the right place. In court."

"Are you never going to tell what you know?"

Hope revived as she saw the thought her question provoked soften the obstinacy in his face.

"Some day. I don't know when. I must think, too. I shall have plenty of solitude for thought."

Kathleen felt her control cracking. "You're so mysterious, Hugo. I don't know you any more. You simply drive me crazy."

The guard turned around on them. He sympathized with the lovely girl with the charming manners, altho he failed to understand her misplaced faith.

"Time's nearly up."

Kathleen's voice was urgent with despair. "Hugo, tell me something—everything——"

But the shut obstinate look was back on his face. "You'd better forget me, Kathleen. The future's too indefinite. Plan it without me. Find some new happiness. There seems no mutual happiness for us."

"Hugo——"

He lifted his left hand to push back his hair and Kathleen saw a bandage on his wrist.

"You're hurt, Hugo. What's that?"

"O, nothing. A cut with a can opener. It'll soon be all right——"

"A can opener in prison? You're hiding something. How did that come about?"

He smiled. "Not in prison, dear. No torture. It went septic and wouldn't heal, that's all. And now, good-by——"

Kathleen glanced at the guard and he looked away from them. She ran to Hugo with a quick movement and threw her arms around his neck, kissing him desperately. For a brief moment his lips pressed hard on hers, bruising them, and she felt the hard beat of his heart. Then he pushed her roughly away.

"Good-by, Kitten—and it is good-by."

"No—no——"

"Listen, dear, there's one thing you can do. Be kind to mother. Try to understand her."

"If only she'll let me—yes, yes, I will——"

The guard opened the door leading to the cells and the two of them went away. Kathleen stood staring at the ugly door which had shut behind them. She did not know she was saying aloud—not good-by—not good-by.

George Cassell opened the outer door a crack, saw her alone and came in to her.

"Come along, Kathleen. Best place for you is home."

Toby had been in the courtroom all day, but in common with his other qualities, his tact was unusual for his years. He was not waiting in Kathleen's car. He had gone home in the Willowdale bus. Neither did he appear at the dinner table. Kathleen was faint with hunger and weariness, yet found it difficult to eat. George, appreciative of Susan's perfect cooking, ate heartily. He began to tell Kathleen what possessed his thoughts when Susan cleared the meal and served the coffee.

"It's 9 o'clock, Kathleen. If you drink that now you won't sleep tonight."

"I can understand how you feel but it seems to me you're not trying to face the future with the right attitude of mind."

"What, exactly, do you mean, George?"

"I mean you've done your best and the thing's over. Your disappointment is natural, but it isn't healthy to make grief a habit."

"I see. You mean I should regard this affair as finished business."

"It would be the intelligent thing to do. What have you to gain by fretting? Lang won't even help any one to help him."

"Perhaps he can't, George. Perhaps there's some dark, strange reason——"

"Yes." George exhaled slowly, "And we know what that dark strange reason is——"

"George—no!"

"Yes. That posturing showoff Vreeland wasn't far wrong in his summing-up. He painted the picture. I'm sorry to hurt you, Kathleen, but I must for your own good. Hugo Lang did it."

Universal day—Instead of starting anything today, clear up all loose ends left over from last week.

How to use your chart—When you see on your personal chart that the day is a one-day, and the suggestion is given that on one-days you start something new, take action, make decisions and in general act more independently than usual, you can go ahead and follow the suggestions, but always keep in mind what the universal day is to be. For instance, today is a nine-day universally [you find this by adding August, 8th month, to four and then add the year, 1941. Eight plus four plus six equals nine.] Naturally, if the general advice is not to start anything new then you can't go ahead quite as independently as your own personal number suggests and you must consider the universal vibrations. If you plan on doing something which affects people universally, you will have more success than if you were planning something which concerned yourself alone.

Would you like to know what kind of a year 1941 will be for you? Send for your personal yearly, monthly, and daily guide.

On the House

If you are planning improvement of your automatic radiator heating system this fall there is the new separate "zoning" of first and second floor which is made possible thru a dual thermostat control system. . . . With such a system you have separate regulation of heat on first and second floors, night and day. . . . Cooler upstairs rooms, warmer rooms downstairs. . . . This control is a fuel saver as well as a comfort contributor.

She continued on to San Juan, Puerto Rico, where she sings Monday night.

Your Stars ★ Today ★

Monday, Aug. 4.

Morning hours today tempt us to take the easy way, rather than the way that will lead to the right results in the long run. But there is a good side to it: If we are practical concerning the new ideas we get. Evening: Avoid all risks.

Your Year Ahead.

Your year ahead, if born on this date, brings distant contacts, much activity; best results in work from coöperation with associates, elders; strong year for benefit from friends. Danger: Jan. 24-Feb. 4; June 18-July 2.

Tomorrow.

Don't leap at the first bait that is offered; take time to be sure.

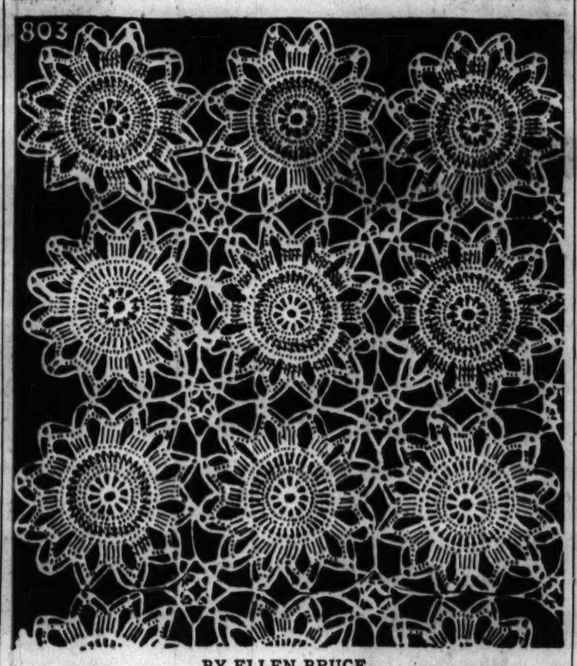
Web and Wheel Medallion



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

The unusual crochet combination of a spider web and a wheel design creates a handsome motif for a tablecloth. It is a quick crochet job, and each medallion is joined with a spider web motif, which is not only effective as a tablecloth but, when made of a coarse cotton, becomes a perfect medium for a bedspread. When an extremely fine mercerized crochet cotton is used, a scarf or runner is an ideal choice for this special piece of needlework.

For instructions in crocheting the spider web and wheel medallion, No. 803, send 10 cents in stamps or coin to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth avenue, New York City.

According to CULBERTSON

[Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.]

Thousands of points are lost every day merely because a partnership squanders two honors on the same trick. At times it is difficult to avoid that pitfall, but in a hand such as the following there is no excuse for that particular type of error.

North, dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.
Match-point duplicate.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 spade	Pass	1 no trump	Double
Pass	Pass	Pass

The North-South bidding was just plain rotten. I can find no kinder or more elegant term. South's one no trump should have been a simple pass. North should not have "stood for" West's double [which was a bit light, by the way]; he should have taken out to two hearts. East's penalty pass to the double was the one flawless call. South might well have tried a two heart rescue on his own account, but evidently feared this would be leaving the frying pan for the fire, a bit of defeatism which was scarcely consistent with his first response.

West opened the club five. Dummy's ten was played and, when it held, a low heart was led. East won, and now made a fatal error: He returned the diamond king. His object, of course, was to smother the diamond jack, so that if declarer had the ace and West the ten spot, declarer would not get two tricks in the suit. Unfortunately for the defenders, East's play had a far different result: It irrevocably blocked the diamond suit!

East had failed to consider the full implications of his partner's double. With all the honors in sight, it was incredible that West could lack the diamond ace. Even the possession of that card made his double light enough!

Obviously, after taking the heart ace, East should have led a low diamond. The two diamond tricks thereby gained would have given the defenders 100 points and an excellent match-point score, instead of the near bottom they received for permitting the doubled contract to be fulfilled with an extra trick.

The afternoon of Dec. 31 has been set aside for several months by Mr. and Mrs. Jerome P. Bowes Jr. for a tea at home to introduce to society his daughter, Miss Barbara Bowes. The plans have become somewhat tentative, however, because of the serious illness of Jerome Bowes III., who is in a Milwaukee hospital recovering from an automobile accident last June 15. One of the young men with whom he was returning from St. Paul's, Jack Doering, was uninjured, and the other, John Connell, has returned home to Chicago after five weeks in the hospital. Young Mr. Bowes may have to spend the winter in Arizona.

Miss Bowes, a granddaughter of Mrs. James H. Channon, has an elder sister, Miss Nancy-Leigh Bowes, who was a belle of a recent debut season. Barbara will return this fall to Pine Manor for her last year. Previously she attended the Warrenton Country school in Virginia.

FRITZ CRISLER BECOMES MEMBER OF ALL-STAR STAFF

MICHIGAN COACH 4TH TO ACCEPT POST ON BOARD

Chief to Be Named Tomorrow.

93,000 to Attend

THE DEMAND for All-Star tickets has been so heavy that every seat in Soldiers' field is expected to be sold two weeks in advance of the game. Officials are making arrangements to install temporary bleachers on top of the stands to increase the seating capacity to 93,000.

BY ARCH WARD.

Herbert O. [Fritz] Crisler, head football coach and athletic director at the University of Michigan, yesterday agreed to serve as a member of the All-Star coaching staff which will prepare the College All-Americans for their game with the Chicago Bears on Soldiers' field the night of Aug. 28.

Fritz Crisler.

Crisler is the fourth famous coach to accept appointment to the All-Star staff. The others are Lynn Waldorf of Northwestern, Homer Norton of Texas A. & M., and Orin Hollingbery of Washington State. The eastern representative will be announced tomorrow at which time the identity of the head coach also will be revealed.

Crisler was an outstanding football, basketball, and baseball player at the University of Chicago in his undergraduate days. He was recognized as an All-American end in football and an All-Big Ten guard in basketball. He was a pitcher on the Maroon nine.

Wins Conference Medal.

Crisler glittered in the classroom as well as on the athletic field. He won the Western conference medal at Chicago for proficiency both in scholarship and athletics, and qualified for membership in Phi Beta Kappa. He was deprived of the latter honor on a technicality.

After graduation in 1922 Crisler remained at his alma mater as assistant to A. A. Stagg, now of the College of the Pacific, who is still an active gridiron coach as he approaches his 80th birthday anniversary. Crisler's introduction to Stagg and to football, which he had not played before entering college, was a knockdown for both. Stagg, avoiding a wide end sweep at varsity practice, unwittingly charged into Crisler, then a freshman who was simply a sideline spectator. Both went sprawling. Apparently the resistance provided by the freshman impressed the Chicago coach, for as he regained his feet his first words were, "Why aren't you out for football?"

Wants to See Inside of Gym.

It was a new idea for Crisler, but he reported the next afternoon for practice with the yearling squad. He explained that he wanted to see what the inside of a gymnasium looked like. He saw the inside of the gymnasium while dressing and a lot more when he moved outside, including a half hour scrimmage with the varsity. It was too strenuous an experience and he temporarily quit. It probably was this incident which has made him emphasize as a coach the necessity of making practice fun rather than drudgery for players.

"If a boy detests football," Crisler contends, "it is usually the fault of the coaching methods."

Crisler became baseball coach and assistant athletic director at Chicago in 1925, and he continued in that capacity until 1930 when he went to Minnesota as athletic director and head football coach. He coached the Gophers thru the seasons of 1930 and 1931 after which he moved to Princeton as chief of the Tigers' gridiron staff. He remained there until after the 1937 football campaign at which time he transferred to Michigan as successor to Harry Kipke. He now has taken over Fielding H. Yost's office as athletic director.

In two years at Minnesota Crisler's elevens won 10 games, lost 7 and tied 1. His six Princeton teams won 35, lost 9, and tied 5. His three Michigan teams won 19, lost 4 and tied 1.

Musicians!

COLLEGE musicians and former members of the All-Star band residing in the Chicago district are invited to participate in the ceremony between halves of the game between the College All-Americans and the Chicago Bears in Soldiers' field on Aug. 28. Musicians should write to G. Cliffe Bainum, band director, Fisk hall, Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

BY ARCH WARD.

JUST before the Indians went into Yankee stadium a couple of weeks ago to polish off their 1941 flop, Myril Hoag, White Sox outfielder, read a headline to Thornton Lee, the south siders' lefty ace, which stated: "Indians Stake Pennant Hopes on Feller." . . . "Hell, you've picked up an old 1939 or 1940 newspaper," drawled Lee. . . . Harry Mendel, widely known in Chicago, New York, and intermediate points for many years as the six day bike boss, hasn't been able to walk for several weeks. . . . It's rheumatism. . . . Sid Mercer of New York, dean of all active baseball writers, never drinks anything stronger than buttermilk. . . . However, he says he can remember when many sports writers drank light wines and beers and some even took a shot of booze on occasion. . . . The Beloit college football squad has taken over an inn at Madeline island in Lake Superior for a week of training before returning to the campus. . . . Torchy Peden, Gerard Debaets, and others known to Chicago bike fans before the six day races folded, are making a living pushing their machines at Coney Island several nights a week. . . . Curley Lambeau, coach of the Packers, takes his recreation scrubbing the deck of his yacht which is anchored at Egg Harbor, 65 miles north of Green Bay. . . . Bernie Crimmins, who won Notre Dame letters at right half back as a sophomore and at full back as a junior, may get his sweater for playing guard this year. . . . Frank Leahy plans to shift him to the right side of the line. . . . Crimmins has won two letters as catcher of the baseball team and is captain-elect of the 1942 nine.

A New York newspaper the other day carried the explanation that Dom Dallessandro of the Cubs is of Italian, not Greek descent, "as many suppose." . . . More than 400 teams are participating in the NYA Junior Baseball program in Michigan this summer. . . . Sonny Workman, former jockey, is making good as a real estate man in Washington, D. C. . . . Tho most of the White Sox are lavish tippers, not a red cap showed up at any of their three coaches when the team pulled into the New York Pennsylvania station from Boston last week. . . . Teddy Yarosz, former middleweight champion, plans to run for the post of tax collector in his home town, Monaca, Pa. . . . Tris Speaker holds an unusual major league record—two unassisted double plays for an outfielder. . . . Oldtimers who remember how he played back of second base will appreciate this fact. . . . The decline of wrestling in Chicago is exemplified in the receipts at bouts conducted by Promoter Fred Kohler, who runs weekly shows at White City and Marigold Gardens. . . . In 1939 he paid taxes on receipts approximating $135,000. . . . In 1940 the gate dropped to $100,000, and this year he doubts if it will exceed $50,000.

"MORE THAN EVER"

In an address on Sept. 11, 1940, President Roosevelt said:

"I hate war now more than ever. I have one supreme determination—to do all I can to keep war away from these shores for all time. I stand with my party, upon the platform adopted in Chicago:

"'We will not participate in foreign wars, and we will not send our army, naval, or air forces to fight in foreign lands outside of the Americas, except in case of attack.'"

BY EDWARD BURNS.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3.—It may be that we are tetched by the extreme heat, but our score card for today shows the White Sox made 18 hits in Ted Lyons' 9 to 0 victory over the Washington Senators. Four of the total, it should be hastily added, were made by Ted himself and four more were socked by his battery mate, Mike Tresh. Everybody contributed at least one hit to the total except Mike Kreevich. Taft Wright had two singles and a triple. Myril Hoag, who struck out with the bases loaded in the first inning, hit a triple later on.

The victory was Lyons' 10th of the season and his 243d as a member of the White Sox. The triumph enabled the Sox to take back their spot in the first division from which they were ousted last Thursday by the Athletics. The Sox also plunged the Senators back in the cellar, from which they lifted them in the opener here Friday.

Lyons in Command Thruout.

Lyons was in command all the way. The Senators made two singles in the first inning, one in the fourth, one with two out in the eighth, and two, one a scratch, in the ninth. The old gentleman did not issue a pass and was accorded errorless support. Only one Senator, Doc Cramer in the first, got as far as third.

The Sox won the game with an unearned run in the first inning, as things turned out. Don Kolloway was safe on an error, went to third on Joe Kuhel's single and scored on Kreevich's fly. Wright and Luke Appling singled to load the bases but Hoag whiffed and Bob Kennedy forced Appling.

Tresh Hits First of Four.

In the second inning Tresh socked the first of his four straight hits, a double, and scored on the first of Lyons' four hits, a single. Kolloway, Kuhel, and Kreevich didn't get the ball out of the infield.

In the fifth, however, Wright and Kennedy singled and Tresh and Lyons continued their strings. Steve Sundra, starting and losing pitcher, gave up and Bill Zuber went in to take the punishment the rest of the way. The Sox made the score 4 to 0 in the inning. Thereafter, off Zuber, they made seven hits and five runs.

The only inning in which the Sox didn't hit safely was the eighth and they made two runs anyhow. Kreevich walked and stole second. Then, after Wright had filed out, Appling walked. Kreevich and Appling completed a double steal and Kreevich scored and Appling advanced on Hoag's fly. Appling scored on a passed ball.

The Sox will resume their road doings in a night game in St. Louis Tuesday.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Brooklyn Dodgers devoted themselves to good, clean fun and amusement again yesterday, much to the anguish of the sixth place Cubs. The second placers simply riddled a good portion of Jimmy Wilson's pitching staff as they had done the two previous afternoons to sweep the three game series in Wrigley field, 10 to 2. It also was Brooklyn's seventh straight success over the Chicagoans.

The Dodgers were quick to reveal their intentions. They started in the first inning but were foiled by a sizzling, kneeling catch by Charley Gilbert with two men on the bases. This didn't stop them. They turned loose a devastating second inning blast which shattered Bill Lee, and made Tot Pressnell's rescue effort brief, after which Jake Mooty halted the batting riot. Six runs blossomed from this bit of action but there were more later off Mooty as well as Charley Root.

Wyatt Has a Big Day.

While the Dodgers were piling up their assortment of 15 hits, the Cubs did some hitting on their own account, but they were very modest about it. By sticking close to the job thru 2 hours and 14 minutes, they managed to pick up seven safeties, all singles, from the pitching of Whitlow Wyatt, now a 14 game winner. In return for the seven hits, Wyatt helped himself to a home run during Mooty's term and also delivered a single which marked the finish of Lee and brought Pressnell to the chopping block in the second inning.

Wyatt was the first Brooklyn pitcher to go the route in 13 games and it was his first victory since July 5.

Lee's slide began with one out in the second. He snared Jim Wasdell's high bounding single and heaved it wild to first, giving the runner an extra base. Lew Riggs singled to center and Wasdell galloped home. Herman Franks punched a single into right and when Wyatt hit safely to center, Riggs scored. Pressnell took charge, but Peewee Reese scratched a single to short, Bill Herman singled two runs home and Pete Reiser doubled two more across. Mooty got to the mound in time to retire the side.

A Cub Rally Fizzles.

The Cubs put on a rally in the second. Bill Nicholson and Babe Dahlgren walked, and Dom Dallessandro dropped a looper behind short, filling the bases with none out. Well, one of the fellows reached home on a fly ball. Quiet then ruled until the sixth, when Wyatt drove his third homer of the year into the left field seats. It was the first hit off Mooty, but pretty soon there were more. In the seventh Herman, Reiser, and Wasdell singled for the Dodgers' eighth run. The Cubs harvested their second run in the same inning on singles by Clyde McCullough and Bob Sturgeon, and a fly ball contributed by Pinchbatter Bob Scheffing.

Root's term began in the eighth and the old boy encountered no obstacles until the ninth, when Joe Medwick, who had been robbed by Gilbert's catch in the opening inning, doubled to left. He scored on Dolph Camilli's single which Nicholson booted to add to his afternoon of grief, which included two strikeouts, an infield tap, and a pass. Camilli took second on the error and subsequently scored when Johnny Hudson fumbled Riggs' roller.

Ex-Association Pitcher Wins a Double Header

Chattanooga, Tenn., Aug. 3 (AP).—Buck Marrow, former American association veteran, pitched 16 innings for Chattanooga today, beating league leading Atlanta in consecutive games, 5 to 0 and 10 to 1.

All Was Chaos for Cubs After This Play

Jim Wasdell speeding into first base after beating out a hit to Bill Lee in the second inning of yesterday's game between the Dodgers and Cubs in Wrigley field. Babe Dahlgren, Cubs' first baseman, is waiting for the ball which never arrived. Lee's throw hit Wasdell, who continued to second. The Dodgers then knocked out Lee and Tot Pressnell, making six runs before Jake Mooty retired them in the inning.

Illinois Beats Wisconsin at Golf, 45-27

Kenosha, Wis., Aug. 3 (AP).—A picked team of 16 Illinois amateurs defeated a similar squad of Wisconsin golfers today, 45 to 27, over the Kenosha Country club course.

George Victor of Chicago led both teams with a 68, three under par. Victor made the turn five under par, but slid two strokes over regulation figures on the back nine. Jimmy Nichols, Victor's opponent, posted a 69 for the best Wisconsin score. He broke even with Victor in their match.

Wilford Wehrle, former Wisconsin star now of Chicago, used 37 strokes on the first nine, but straightened out his game on the back nine for a 32, tying Nichols' for the second low score.

The 70 shooters included Andey Anderson, Kenosha, Art Andrews, Peoria, Ill., and John Lehman, Chicago.

ILLINI TRUSTEES MEET TOMORROW TO PICK DIRECTOR

The new acting director of athletics at the University of Illinois, to succeed Wendell S. Wilson, will be named in Chicago tomorrow at a meeting of the university board of trustees. Wilson recently was ousted as an aftermath to a feud with Bob Zuppke, football coach.

It is believed that Doug Mills, present Illini basketball coach, was the man selected by the new athletic board when it made its recommendation to the trustees 10 days ago.

Among other major items to be considered at the trustees' meeting will be the university's internal budget for the current year, and the athletic association budget. The meeting will be held in the university's new medical and dental building on the west side.

WOMEN GOLFERS OPEN DERBY AT MEDINAH TODAY

Elizabeth Hicks Newell Defends Title.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Mrs. Frank Newell of Long Beach, Cal., today will open defense of her women's western Derby golf championship at the Medinah Country club against a field of more than 70 starters. Perchance you didn't know that Mrs. Newell, who acquired that name within the last year, twice has won this longest of all medal play events for women golfers. She is the same young lady who, as Elizabeth Hicks, set a Derby record of 307 in the 1939 tournament at Evanston and then came back to win again at Westmoreland last summer with a 314.

Arrayed against Mrs. Newell for the 72 holes of medal play, 18 to a day thru Thursday, will be a bright field that includes Ellamae Williams of Bryn Mawr, last year's runner-up; Virginia Ingram of Sunset Ridge and Mary Wilder of Skokie, winner and runner-up in the recent CWDGA final; Jeanne Cline of Bloomington, Ill., new western junior champion, and such stars as Eleanor Dudley of Ridge; Georgia Tainter of Fargo, N. D.; Phyllis Otto of Atlantic, Ia.; Peggy Rutledge of Long Beach, Cal.; Mary Wall of Menominee, Mich.; Mrs. Hayes Dansingburg of St. Paul, Minn., and Virginia Nilles of North Shore.

Pros-President's Play.

Also on today's program will be the third annual pro-president's tournament at Edgewater. Presidents of the various CDGA clubs will join up with members of the Illinois PGA in an afternoon round based on selective drives and alternate shots, with half of each president's handicap applying to the score. Wednesday will bring the Skokie Kilties day and Calumet's Plae Dae, as well as the South District league gathering at Ravisloe. The West District league will assemble on Thursday at Hinsdale.

The fourth annual Illinois state southpaws' tournament conducted by the CDGA will be held Friday at Edgewood Valley. The event is at 36 holes medal play, and Sam Alpert of Idlewild again will be the favorite on the basis of his three previous victories. The entry fee is $3. Blanks may be obtained from the CDGA headquarters in the La Salle hotel.

Shot Put Will Begin Defense of Route Title

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Washington Park's series of distance races will get under way this week with the running of the $2,500 Isaac Murphy handicap on Wednesday. Among the 22 nominees for this two mile gallop is Mrs. Marie Evans' Shot Put, who was the national route running champion of 1940.

The Isaac Murphy will be followed by a $2,500 stake at two miles and a quarter on every Wednesday of the meeting, the Snapper Garrison handicap being scheduled for Aug. 13, the Lucien Lyne on Aug. 20, and the Johnny Bullman on Aug. 27. A similar series last year brought out the route running ability of Shot Put and he went on to win the $50,000 New York handicap at Belmont Park.

Shot Put at Top Weight.

Among Shot Put's rivals in Wednesday's race will be Al Au Feu, Blind Eagle, Dark Phaona, Gen. L, Landlubber, Mucho Gusto, The Fop and Topee. Shot Put's well known ability at two miles would normally establish him as the overwhelming favorite in this field, but Racing Secretary Charles McLennan has allotted weights so as to even things up a bit. Shot Put, at 122 pounds, will carry 10 more than any other horse on the track.

Shot Put started out well in his Chicago area campaign this season by winning the La Salle handicap at Lincoln Fields. Since then, however, he has been unable to score. The added distance of Wednesday's event may be what he needs to reassert himself, tho that impost of 122 pounds may be quite a drag on him in the last quarter mile by comparison with the light burdens of his rivals.

May Discover Others.

As the movement to popularize distance racing gathers way, there may be quite a revision in the scale of values of various horses, which are particularly well adapted for two and a quarter mile races but have hitherto had very few opportunities to cash in on their talents. Shot Put, for instance, was a plater before the tracks started putting up good prizes for route runners. Now his owner wouldn't dream of risking him in a race with a claiming tag on him. Many other horses who would otherwise go thru their careers very lightly valued, may prove themselves to be mighty useful members of their stables as the move for stake races at long routes gains in popularity thruout the country.

CYO PICKS THREE BIKE RIDERS FOR NATIONAL MEET

Marvin Thomson of the Barrett A. C., won the state one mile title and he, with Ed Carsagnini and Fred Pesek of the CYO, will go to California.

Ask the Man Who Owns One.

There's something in a uniform
That seems to appeal to the gals—
The Mables, the Marys, the Margarets,
The Susans, and the Sals.

It may be the polished buttons
Or it may be the dash and snap
Embodied in the uniform
Or the rakish tilt of a cap.

Whence comes the attraction I do not know,
But ev'ry girlie shares it.
Perhaps the appeal in a uniform
Lies in the guy who wears it.

Upon the Stage of Life.

Act 1.

How many things I thought about
While sitting there beside your bed—
Your laughter and your twinkling eyes—
The joyous words that you have said.

You lay so strangely white and still—
For several hours you did not stir
Unconscious that we touched your hand—
I wonder where you really were?

Act 2.

And slowly then you groped your way
To find the world that you had known.
At last you opened up your eyes—
The anesthetic power had flown.

Act 3.

Today you're smiling once again
Within a room bedecked with flowers—
And we are grateful to our God
Who brought you safely thru those hours.

Ten Years Ago Today—The Philadelphia Athletics defeated Washington twice and led the league by 12 games. . . . Knight Commander won the $5,000 Inaugural handicap at Hawthorne. . . . Joe Jacobs, manager of Max Schmeling, announced that his champion would defend his title against Mickey Walker in Miami, Fla.

Bennett Seeks 7th Straight; Battles Cross

Tommy Cross, junior welterweight newcomer from Philadelphia, will attempt to snap Leonard Bennett's string of six straight victories tonight in an eight round bout in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace street.

Cross, who will be making his first Chicago appearance against his Detroit opponent, is undefeated this year, having scored two victories and two draws. Altho Tom's record indicates he is a competent boxer he is not expected to beat Bennett, who will outweigh him.

Nyberg Fights Derbo.

In his recent draw with Julie Kogan in Brooklyn, Cross weighed 139 pounds. This is eight pounds less than Bennett scaled when he knocked out Dick Demaray in Marigold on July 21.

George Nyberg, Port Arthur, Ont., 149 pounder, unbeaten for two years, will face Ernie Derbo of Minneapolis in an eight round semi-windup. Nyberg will be after his seventh consecutive triumph. Derbo is aggressive and this one may develop into a slugging match.

Seward Takes on Ferraro.

Billy Seward, Ingomar, Mont., lightweight, is paired with Annunzio Ferraro of Milwaukee in an eight round preliminary. Ferraro stopped Jimmy Santora five weeks ago, but he is meeting a fellow who has scored 26 knockouts in 37 bouts. Bill Petersen, Indiana Harbor heavyweight, and Frank Greene of the south side are principals in an eight round opener.

Tarzan White, Chicago Cardinals' football player, will oppose Ignacio Martinez in a heavyweight wrestling engagement tonight in White City, 63d street and South Park avenue. . . . Tickets will go on sale today for a 10 round fight between Johnny Colan, New York middleweight, and Steve Mamakos of Washington, D. C., in Chicago Stadium outdoor arena Aug. 13. . . . Barney Ross today will renew his Illinois Athletic commission refereeing license following severance of his connections with a weekly amateur boxing club in Lake Zurich. . . . Tony Zale, middleweight champion, soon will contribute his services in a series of exhibition bouts in army camps in this section.

Lid Is Off at Saratoga for Yearling Sales

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 3 (AP).—They tell you the lid is on in Saratoga this August, yet the biggest gamble in all sport swings into action here this week and will do a rushing business with the blessing of the city fathers.

This is the annual Saratoga yearling sales, where you bid as high as you please on a horse without even knowing whether he's good enough to pull a milk wagon. All you have to go on is what his daddy did, and you have to admit making ten the hard way is a slightly softer touch than that. At least, the dice are numbered from one to six only.

Yet, in the past, the bids have gone as high as $75,000 for one of these baby gallopers on the off chance they'll hit the jackpot. By the half wink of an eyelid, the slightest motion of a finger in the auctioneer's direction, they'll jump a bid 5 hundred, a thousand, even 5 thousand for a thorobred with particularly presentable parents.

1940 Crop Is Successful.

This time, in particular, the folks who dream about a stake and the fashionable interested only in owning a winner will give the sales a hot play, because the yearlings which were dealt off the block last year turned out to be the snappiest crop in years. Of the 23 leading money winning 2 year olds up to now, 13 were products of the 1940 sales. These 13 cost the winning bidders a total of $40,400 and so far their bank account shows a gaudy $174,405 in earnings for the year.

Topping off the list from last year's sales is Mrs. Al Sabath's Alsab, picked up for $700 because he wasn't particularly fashionably bred. So far he's won $33,105 and is second only to Warren Wright's Sun Again in the juvenile money winning ranks. Then there's Requested, the game son of Bull Dog, which went to Ben Whitaker, the Texas sportsman, for $1,300. He's collected a neat $31,650. Between them, these two have won nine stakes all the way from Suffolk Downs to Arlington Park.

Even Howard Is Lucky.

On 11 of the 13 the profit has been more than $5,000, and on three of them it's been more than $10,000. Charley Howard, who is moaning these days that his luck is running out, was so unlucky he picked up a little filly for $800 last year, named her Chiquita Mia, and so far has won more than $12,000.

Of course, you never can tell where the little ball will land by the way the wheel is spinning, so it isn't always a success story. For instance, Mrs. Isabel Dodge Sloane went to $18,000 last year to get a brown son of Sickle, and from the looks of things she'll be mighty lucky if he earns enough to keep him in hay and oats. Mrs. Ethel V. Mars paid $12,000 for Dogpatch and he's earned exactly $850. W. R. Coe once went to $70,000 for a colt called Hustle On, but Hustle On just hustled off with his bank roll.

Generally, however, the buyers at least get their money back from their investments.

Chicago Firemen Defeat Elmhurst in 12th, 5 to 3

The Chicago firemen defeated Elmhurst yesterday in Elmhurst, 5 to 3, in 12 innings. In the 12th McNamara singled, stole second, and scored on a single by Stenberg, who also scored when the catcher threw the ball into center field.

BOB MORROW IS 2D WESLEYAN ALL-STAR WINNER

Blazine Was Big Surprise of 1935 Game.

Bloomington, Ill., Aug. 3 [Special].—Bob Morrow, 1940 captain and full back, is the second Illinois Wesleyan player to be named on a Chicago Tribune All-Star squad. Tony Blazine, a tackle now with the Chicago Cardinals, was chosen on the 1935 team.

Like Morrow, Blazine was not named on the starting eleven, but he played 56 minutes of the battle against the professional champions that night and was the outstanding lineman on the field. Morrow's friends believe he will make an equally fine showing the night of Aug. 28.

Drive, Courage, Determination.

Morrow was born May 5, 1918 at Madison, Wis. His family later moved to Glenwood, Ill., where Bob went to Bloom Township High school. Elmer Nelson, a former Bloomington man, is athletic director at Bloom and Cecil Sarff, a graduate of Drake, was Morrow's football coach.

From the day Morrow reported for freshman football practice at Wesleyan, Bob displayed terrific drive, courage, determination, all the qualities a football player must have to reach the top.

The freshman team on which Morrow played in the fall of 1937 was probably the greatest in Wesleyan history. Time after time it humiliated the varsity in practice games. The back field contained Herb Robinson, Don Drumm, and Mel Morehouse, all of whom became varsity stars. But Morrow was the standout, a real full back, a ton of dynamite on offense.

Started as a Tackle.

Bob started his football career as a tackle, playing this position as a sophomore at Bloom, but in his junior year Coach Sarff realized that Bob had tremendous possibilities as a full back, and his last six years of football have been spent at that position post.

His greatest thrill? Bob said it was receiving the wire from Arch Ward, Tribune sports editor, informing him that he had been elected to the All-Star squad.

PIRATES WIN TWO FROM GIANTS AND TAKE 3D PLACE

Reds, Shut Out Twice by Braves, Drop to 4th.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Aug. 3 (AP).—The Pittsburgh Pirates sailed into third place in the National league and thrilled a crowd of 25,688 today by thumping the New York Giants, 5 to 4 and 10 to 4, in a double header which closed a brilliant home stand. Great relief pitching by Lloyd Dietz and Bob Klinger enabled the Pirates to come from behind in each game after Lefty Kenny Heintzelman started both games and was chased quickly by New York barrages of runs.

Dietz relieved Heintzelman in the first inning of the opener after New York had scored four runs. He shut the Giants out with two hits the rest of the way. After the Giants scored three runs Klinger succeeded Heintzelman in the second inning of the second contest, which was cut to six innings by the Pennsylvania law prohibiting Sunday baseball after 6 p. m. Except for Babe Young's sixth inning homer Klinger was invincible.

Pitcher Bob Carpenter was chased by Umpire Ziggy Sears in the first inning of the opener when he protested too bitterly against the umpiring. He had issued four consecutive passes to force in the first Pirate run.

John Cooney, 40 year old Boston outfielder whose .325 batting average ranks him third in the National league, made the presentations.

Umpire Larry Goetz, whose left wrist was fractured by a foul tip in the third inning of yesterday's game, worked with his injured arm in a splint. Scores:

Chicago and Lake Shore Win in Cricket League

Chicago won from South Park, 92 to 88, while Lake Shore won its first game in 10 starts by defeating Hyde Park, 67 to 55. YANKS BLANKED; 1ST SINCE MAY 30; LOSE TWO GAMES!

New York, Aug. 3 (AP).—Before 37,829 customers the last place St. Louis Browns did a thoro job of stopping the Yankees dead in their tracks twice today, 6 to 2 and 5 to 0. In the first game Johnny Niggeling held them to four hits, broke Joe DiMaggio's latest hitting streak at 16 games, and saw his mates blast Red Ruffing off the mound after Ruffing had won nine straight games.

That example served as a spur for Bob Harris, who pitched for the Browns in the second game. He turned in a two hitter that shut out the Yanks for the first time since May 30. It also marked the first time this season that the league leaders have dropped a double header.

The Yanks got away in front in the opening game on Charley Keller's 27th home run of the year and added another run in the third. Thru the fifth Ruffing had the Browns shut out, making 35 consecutive innings in which the opposition had not scored. But Niggeling singled in the sixth, and the Browns were on their way. In the second game Harris let only one man get as far as second and that was Johnny Sturm, who doubled in the first inning. Scores:

BRITISH FOOD CUTS SEVERER THAN INDICATED

'Real Consumption' Much Reduced.

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 3.—Altho Bank of England returns show that currency circulation in this country is increasing by leaps and bounds and Board of Trade indices of living costs are holding about 29 per cent above the prewar level, the real effect of shortages and rationing on the national diet of the British Isles appears out of proportion to the impression conveyed by the official figures.

Further details of civilian consumption in wartime, given in the latest bulletin of the Oxford Institute of Statistics, show that, altho the volume of retail sales generally, as already reported, dropped 13 per cent, the cut in "real consumption" of main foodstuffs exceeded 40 per cent of that before the war.

Data Supplied by Shops.

The institute's analysis is based on information supplied by shops in various parts of the country catering mostly to persons with small incomes. It splits up the national consumption of groceries under five headings: fats, including butter, margarine, lard and cooking fat; protein foods, comprising bacon, cooked meat, sausage, cheese and eggs; carbohydrate foods, made up of sugar, jam, marmalade, cake and biscuit flour; tea, and sundries.

On the basis of the average consumption in 1938-'39 equaling 100, the index for fats in February this year dropped to 37; protein foods, 38; carbohydrate foods, 97, and tea, 75. Contrary to the general trend, "sundries" showed a rise, at 104.

The general index for the five classes of foods, however, which stood at 103 in September, 1939, dropped to 59 by February, 1941. The two most important groups, fats and proteins, which together accounted for nearly two-thirds of the prewar expenditure, now are being consumed at about one-third of the prewar rate.

Improvement Over October.

The February figures, however, show improvement over last October, when the general index dropped to 51, but the gains were confined mostly to the less vital class of goods.

Long term implications of the institute's findings on national health, efficiency, and the ability of workers to stand up under long hours of labor in wartime conditions were not lost on industrialists and economists, despite the fact that the national health to date is declared to be better than before the war.

Warning that "one cannot suddenly change the diet of a nation on the present scale without altering the physical and mental makeup of this generation and perhaps the next," the Financial News last week asserted, "If the war is prolonged, food must be put into the same position as munitions and the fighting services, with proteins and planes ranking equally for No. 1 priorities."

The question of allocating shipping, "between guns and butter," the Financial News adds, "is too big to be settled either by the ministry of food or the ministry of transport. It is a policy matter for the cabinet itself. The willingness of the United States to include certain foodstuffs under the lease-lend program should be met more than half way. The emphasis on essential war materials should not be exclusive. Foodstuffs are essential war materials."

Some Shops Face Closing.

Meanwhile, shopkeepers in this country were advised in a memorandum issued by the Board of Trade that they must face the possibility of having to close down a number of shops, because of the substantial reduction in goods available for sale once the existing stocks are exhausted, the necessity of keeping prices level by cutting distribution costs, and the conscription of numerous retail workers into the fighting forces and war industries.

Another ominous expansion of £5,575,000 [about $22,300,000 in the currency circulation recorded by the Bank of England last week brings the total to a new peak of £658,430,000 [about $2,633,720,000]. At the present expansion rate, a further increase in the authorized paper money issue above the present level of £680,000,000 [about $2,720,000,000] seems inevitable.

SNUFF.

I understand American Snuff company hasn't missed paying a dividend on its common stock since 1903. Has its sales increased in recent years? May I have a report on this company?—G. B. W.

Answer: American Snuff company is engaged solely in the manufacture of snuff. It has an annual output of about 11 million pounds. Plants are located at Memphis and Clarksville, Tenn., almost all of its output being sold in the south.

The company was incorporated in New Jersey in 1900 and paid its initial common stock dividend in 1903. It has never missed a payment in any year since. Distribution has been at the rate of 75 cents quarterly since 1929. An extra of 25 cents a share has been paid in each of the last nine years.

Capitalization consists of 37,589 shares of 6 per cent noncumulative preferred stock of $100 par and 434,100 shares of $25 par common. Both classes are listed on the New York Stock exchange. There is no funded debt.

Net sales, net profits and per common share earnings in the last five years follow:

	Net sales.	Net profit.	Earn. per comm. share.
1936	$7,695,918	$1,655,086	$3.32
1937	7,701,200	1,572,682	3.13
1938	7,973,867	1,654,984	3.32
1939	7,963,567	1,536,365	3.03
1940	7,993,807	1,376,500	2.67

The company reported total assets of $22,285,300, including current assets of $14,700,344 at the end of 1940. Current liabilities totaled $1,043,002.

BOOTLEGGERS QUITE ACTIVE.

Do you have figures showing the per capita consumption of alcoholic beverages? Are people drinking as much as they did between 1910 and 1915 when per capita consumption was highest?—R. W. Y.

Answer: Consumption of 1,825 million gallons of alcoholic beverages last year was equal to 13.9 gallons per person and compared with 22.8 gallons in 1911 and 1913. Each person was estimated to have drunk .7 gallons of wine, 12.1 gallons of malt beverages and 1.1 gallons of distilled spirits.

The liquor industry estimates that consumption is one quarter to one half again larger than the above figures show because of the amount sold by bootleggers. This would put the per capita consumption on a par with the 1910-1915 period. The bootlegging is done mostly thru spurious labeling and bottle refilling. The 10,663 stills seized by federal agents in 1940 were reported capable of producing 20 million gallons of distilled spirits if operated for only two weeks prior to seizure.

PROPOSES PLAN TO AVOID SAG IN AUTO INDUSTRY

Buffalo, N. Y., Aug. 3 (AP).—R. J. Thomas, president of the CIO United Automobile Workers, today proposed anew the union's plan "to prevent the dislocation of the industry" and contended the national armament program is lagging seriously.

Referring to the possibility of as much as a 50 per cent reduction in automobile output, Thomas proposed the UAW-CIO plan "that the federal government convene at once a joint conference of automobile management, automobile labor, and government experts to work out a program to prevent the threatened dislocation of the industry."

"To a greater extent than we like to believe," he said on the eve of the opening of the UAW-CIO sixth annual convention, "our national defense program is still in the blue print or 'on order' stage. We cannot say with certainty when these vital supplies, the sinews of national defense, will be forthcoming in sufficient quantity."

Steel Makers Disturbed by Federal Rules

Cleveland, O., Aug. 3 (AP).—Frequent revisions of rolling schedules and new, unexpected demands from Britain are handicapping steel production, the magazine Steel reported today. Asserting that the rapidly changing world situation made these handicaps unavoidable, the weekly review observed:

"Makers barely get launched on one course of action when a new ruling by a government body, or a flood of new priorities, causes revisions of order books and schedules and makes for loss of time."

One example of uneconomical practices reported was the rolling of 17 inch strip on a 43 inch mill which might better have been used for 30 inch strip.

British Inquiry Hits Schedules.

An inquiry last week for a million tons of semifinished steel for Britain further unsettled production schedules. This inquiry, now being studied at Washington, is in addition to a like quantity ordered recently.

Despite delays and shortages of raw materials, the national steel operating rate rose 1½ points last week to 98½ per cent of capacity. Advances were reported at Chicago, up 1 point to 101 per cent; New England, 3 points to 88, and Cincinnati, 6 points to 91½. Detroit declined 1 point to 87, Buffalo 2½ to 90½. The rate was unchanged at: Pittsburgh, 100; Eastern Pennsylvania, 95½; Wheeling, 93; Cleveland, 96; Birmingham, 90; St. Louis, 98, and Youngstown, 98.

Expects Production Cuts.

The industry expects further cuts in production because of the scrap shortage, and numerous steel makers desire allocations by the government to relieve them of the task of refusing orders to old customers because they do not hold priority ratings.

Wage increases and provisions for anticipated tax increases reduced second quarter earnings of 17 leading steel producers by 24.5 per cent. These concerns, representing 85 per cent of the industry's capacity, earned a combined net total of $58,864,188 for the quarter ended June 30. This compared with $77,983,710 for the preceding quarter but was 30 per cent ahead of the $44,188,328 for the corresponding quarter of 1940.

SHIP WORKERS ACCEPT PLANS OF MEDIATORS

Newark, N. J., Aug. 3 (AP).—CIO employés today rescinded a secret ballot decision and accepted defense mediation board recommendations for a working contract at the Federal Shipbuilding and Drydock company plant in Kearny, busy on $493,000,000 of war and merchant ship orders.

Recommendations accepted included a modified union shop, vacation adjustments, and a 12 per cent wage increase already paid by the company retroactive to June 24.

AFL Council Approves Pact.

Tampa, Fla., Aug. 3 (AP).—The Gulf Coast Metal Trades council of the American Federation of Labor ratified today a two year zone labor agreement for 10 shipyards along the gulf coast, contingent on supplementary agreements between individual yards and their employés.

John P. Frey, president of the metal trades department of the AFL, said all yards except the Tampa Shipbuilding company so far had failed to reach supplementary agreements, and the case probably would go to the National Mediation board.

Half Year's Farm Income from Marketing Higher

Washington, D. C., Aug. 3 (AP).—The agriculture department reported today that income from farm marketings during the first half of the year totaled $4,005,000,000, or $591,000,000 more than in the same period of 1940. The general level of prices received by farmers, the report also said, may average nearly 20 per cent higher.

TEXAS OUTPUT OF OIL CLIMBS TO NEW RECORD

Austin, Tex., Aug. 3 [Special].—Crude petroleum production in Texas rose to 1,412,121 barrels daily yesterday, an increase of 50,521 barrels daily during last week. This record high level was due to the unprecedented and widespread drilling activities and completion of new wells.

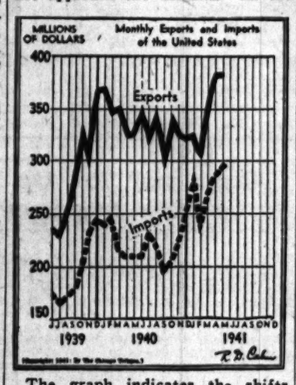
ARMS EXPORTS RUN FAR BELOW LICENSE TOTAL

Six Month Permits 866 Millions.

Washington, Aug. 3 [Special].—Export licenses for the shipment of arms and war materials to foreign countries issued during the first six months of this year totaled $866,663,637, the department of state announced today. Actual exports under the licenses up to June 30, however, reached a total of only $312,331,156.

For June the tabulation showed a discrepancy between licenses issued and shipments, even more striking. Licenses were issued for $190,045,250, against actual exports valued at $48,796,815.

Judging by the June figures, production of aircraft engines, assembled, unassembled or dismantled, did not approach the demand. In the month the value of aircraft engines of all categories shipped reached a value of $7,735,246, compared with export licenses for such engines for the whole first half of the year valued at $110,129,230. Shipments for the half year were valued at $47,475,768.



The graph indicates the shifts in United States foreign trade since 1939.

Ammunition Shipments Lag.

The output of ammunition in excess of .22 calibre, and including shells for large guns, howitzers and machine guns, the figures showed, was not gaining on export licenses in June. Such shipments were $27,256,911, against "backlog" licenses totaling $147,756,553.

Export licenses issued for the shipment of fighter and bomber planes totaled $344,052,078 for the first six months, and export licenses issued for June alone came to $13,789,942. Actual shipments in this category in June amounted to $20,394,298, and actual shipments for the first six months were $155,212,687.

Under the heading "vessels of war of all kinds, including armor plate for same," the department reported that export licenses for the half year totaled $6,354,748, but actual deliveries were worth only $1,484,507.

Tanks and Armored Vehicles.

The manufacture of tanks, military armored vehicles and armored trains, the figures showed, also lagged far behind orders and export licenses. During the first six months export licenses issued under this heading had a total value of $74,640,687. Actual shipments in the period were worth $9,612,074.

The tables issued by the state department no longer specify the different nations given export licenses, nor those to which shipments were actually made, with the exception of Cuba. Total Cuban war material purchases during six months were only $18,245.

PILLSBURY FLOUR MILLS NETS $1.47 A SHARE IN YEAR

Net earnings of $810,764, equal to $1.47 a share of stock, were reported yesterday by Pillsbury Four Mills company, for the fiscal year ended May 31. Net sales for the year were $56,060,186, the report said.

Net income of $1,016,264 for the 28 weeks ended July 12 was reported yesterday by Flintkote company, producer of asphalt and asbestos roofing, wallboard, and related products. In the corresponding period a year earlier earnings were $621,470. The per share earnings in the respective periods were $1.45 and 92 cents. Net sales rose to $13,146,431, from $9,163,272.

DAY by DAY on the FARM by BOB BECKER

Farm Co-Operation.

Aug. 3, 1941.

CHRISTMAS, Thanksgiving, July 4, and the threshing season. That's the order in which farmers are apt to rate their annual celebrations. Without doubt, threshing time brings back as many pleasant memories as are associated with some of the other holidays.

The increased usage of the combine can't erase from the minds of past and present farm workers the sight of the chugging steam engine, the huge threshing machine, perspiring workers in a golden field pitching the bundles of oats into the racks under a brilliant sun, grain being put into the escalator which carries it into the bins, and the high point of the celebration—noon dinner.

"Respectable" Appetites.

The 21 men from five farms working in the threshing ring on the Yorkville farm had rather respectable appetities when we joined them at the dinner table the other day. During this meal they consumed 11 pounds of roast beef, 20 pounds of mashed potatoes, 4 quarts of brown gravy, 5 loaves of white and whole wheat bread, 5 pounds of navy beans, 8 pounds of freshly sliced tomatoes, 5 delicious apple pies, and coffee, cream, and fresh country butter.

When it came time to work the 21 handled the various jobs as follows: One to operate the steam engine, 1 to operate the separator and blower of the thresher, 8 rack drivers, 6 bundle pitchers, 2 truck drivers to haul grain to the bin, 1 elevator operator, 1 man to haul water for the engine, and 1 to keep the men in the fields supplied with cold water.

Threshing on Air

A description of threshing activities on THE TRIBUNE'S Yorkville farm will be given by Lew LaMar, W-G-N farm editor, during the Farm hour from 6:30 to 6:45 a. m. tomorrow. The W-G-N mobile unit will visit the farm today and make a transcription as it travels alongside the threshing machine. LaMar also will describe the coöperative work of the neighborhood threshing ring.

Example of Co-operation.

Threshing rings represent one of the best examples of neighborliness and coöperation among farmers. Most of the men in the threshing ring at Yorkville have known each other since boyhood. Several weeks ago the managers of the five farms met; decided on the number of men each farm was to supply [based on the amount of grain to be threshed on the various farms]; how much was to be paid to the owners of the threshing outfit; the order in which the farms were to be worked, and other details.

These neighbors have been working together for about seven years. They all believe that the threshing ring system is economical; that it saves more of the straw, and that it permits the grain to be cut in a short period of time when it is dead ripe.
